Winners announced for the 2014 Bushcare Landcare Awards

Council recently hosted the 17th annual Bushcare and Landcare Awards to applaud the environmental volunteers of the Hawkesbury for their efforts in 2014.

The Awards were held in partnership with Greater Sydney Local Land Services and six awards were presented on the night to many worthy and hardworking groups and individuals.

The highest honour of the night, Environmental Volunteer of the Year was awarded to Kay Rowe for her outstanding achievements in encouraging our younger generation to participate in Bushcare and Landcare. This award is presented to a volunteer who shows inspiring commitment and dedication to the Hawkesbury environment.

Ms Rowe facilitates lunchtime Landcare at Kurrajong East Public School. Since 2010 she has been finding interesting and engaging ways to encourage her students to participate in Landcare activities. Together with her students she has slowly controlled the weeds and restored bushland at the back of the school. Her students are very proud of the work they have undertaken. Kay recognises the importance of passing on the skills for our younger generations to protect our environment. She has also actively participated in Bushcare activities in the Hawkesbury for many years.

The Yellomundee Aboriginal Bushcare Group was awarded the Environmental Group of the Year for their efforts in Bushcare that led to the Firesticks Program at Yellomundee Regional Park. The Firesticks Program is an Aboriginal led network and aims to revive the use of cultural fire practices to improve biodiversity, have a connection with the land, and create a sense of community and more.

This year a new award was introduced – the Toni May Memorial Award for Excellence in Bushland Regeneration. This award was developed to honour the memory of Toni May, a lady who was at the forefront of Bush Regeneration techniques in the Sydney area and was passionate about Bushcare in the Hawkesbury. This award was presented to Peter Mobbs, who was close to Toni May. He was honoured to receive the award on the night. Mr Mobbs has undertaken a substantial amount of work in the Hawkesbury and passes down his knowledge of bushland regeneration, teaching at TAFE.

Other Awards presented on the night recognised the efforts of outstanding volunteers and groups:

- The Hawkesbury Community Nursery Green Thumb Award – Wendy Lawson

- Rookies of the Year – St Albans Village Weed Wackers
- 10 Years Long Service – Jan Kofron, Heather Winch, Patrick Cooper

Councillor Rasmussen represented Council at the event and passed on his congratulations.

Everyone is welcome to visit their local Bushcare or Landcare group as well the Community Nursery and lend a hand. If you are interested in getting involved, contact Martin Gauci, Council's Community Bushcare Officer on (02) 4560 4525 or the Greater Sydney Local Land Services on (02) 4725 3050 and join a group today.

The Yellomundee Bushcare and Firesticks Program will be continuing in 2015. If you are interested in the Firesticks program or Bushcare at Yellomundee Regional Park, email yellomundeeffiresticks@hotmail.com or call (02) 4720 6202.

Martin Gauci, Cllr Paul Rasmussen, and Vanessa Keyzer congratulate the winner of the Environmental Volunteer of the Year Award, Kay Rowe (centre)

LOCAL NEWS REPORT

NSW Police Force

Police have performed over a quarter of a million more random breath tests during the state's Christmas/New Year road policing campaign in 2014/15, compared to the same time last year.

Operation Safe Arrival, the state's Christmas-New Year road safety campaign, started at 12.01am on Friday 19 December 2014 and concluded last night (Sunday 4 January 2015).

The 2014/2015 operation ran for 17 days, compared to 15 for the 2013/2014 campaign.

The Christmas/New Year road toll in NSW was 10, compared to 11 for Operation Safe Arrival 2013/2014.

Traffic and Highway Patrol Command Assistant Commissioner, John Hartley, said police performed 830,670 random breath tests during this year's operation – an increase of 259,006 on the 2013/2014 operation.

"This year's operation began with the entire highway patrol fleet being decked-out in high visibility markings," Assistant Commissioner Hartley said.

During this year's operation police charged 1273 people with drink driving offences compared to 1209 for the 2013/2014 operation.

By end Operation Safe Arrival police had detected 14,422 people travelling above the speed limit, an increase of 2878 on the 2013/14 operation.

During Safe Arrival 2014/2015, 1881 people were detected not wearing their seatbelts or using occupant restraints properly, compared to 1454 for Safe Arrival 2013/2014. In 2014, twenty-nine people died in crashes while not wearing their seatbelt, compared to 20 in 2013.

Assistant Commissioner Hartley said more than a generation had grown up with compulsory seatbelt laws.

One Punch Can Ruin Lives

One punch can be lethal, and thrown without warning or gloves can be deadly. One punch can ruin lives.

NSW Government's new laws, which aim to stop drug and alcohol related violence include:

- New sentences for 'one punch' assaults
- A 20 year maximum sentence for anyone who unlawfully assaults another who dies as a direct or indirect result of the assault. If the offender was intoxicated by alcohol or drugs, a minimum of eight years and a maximum 25 year sentence applies.

- Existing maximum sentences increased by two years
- For serious assaults where drugs and alcohol are involved, existing maximum sentences will increase by two years, and mandatory minimum sentences have been introduced.
- Voluntary intoxication removed as a mitigating factor in sentencing
- Voluntary intoxication by drugs or alcohol will be removed as a mitigating factor when courts determine sentences.
- Drug and alcohol testing for suspected offenders
- Police can conduct drug and alcohol testing when they suspect an offender has committed an alcohol or drug fuelled violent assault.

Convicts To Take Over Bella Vista Farm Throughout January

It's already one of Sydney's heritage gems, but visitors to Bella Vista Farm Park will go back to the 19th century throughout January and on Australia Day as the team from Convict Footprints productions are part of the experience that will form a unique 'old Sydney' feel.

Convict Footprints will be performed at the farm throughout January and the convicts will be back on Australia Day, roaming around the park, making mischief while keeping free of the clutches of the ever-watchful Red Coats.

Convict Footprints is a unique living history theatre production company that tells the story of convicts that lived and worked throughout the Sydney Hills in the early times of Colonial settlement.

Convict Footprints Director and Actor

Jerry Retford said that it's the sugar that helps the medicine of history go down.

Convict Footprints will perform two-hour shows at Bella Vista Farm Park on January 9,10,11, 16,17, 18 January and will be part of the amazing activities in store for visitors to the farm on Australia Day.

Sydney Festival Far From Folsom

Tex Perkins heads behind bars to embody the spirit of Johnny Cash for these very special performances. In a recreation of the legendary American's 1968 Folsom Prison concerts, Perkins delves into Cash's dark repertoire at the old Parramatta Gaol.

Built in the 19th century, this recently decommissioned gaol reopens for these outdoor concerts in the exercise yard. Perkins is joined by his band, The Tennessee Four, and Rachael Tidd, who will reprise the vocals of June Carter.

For this memorable experience in jail, rock icon Perkins lends his gravelly baritone and rugged charisma to a performance of songs from At Folsom Prison, widely considered one of the greatest live albums of all time.

National Theatre Live John

Internationally renowned DV8 Physical Theatre bring their powerful new production to the National Theatre.

The company's new production, JOHN, authentically depicts real-life stories, combining movement and spoken word to create an intense and moving theatrical experience.

Lloyd Newson, DV8's Artistic Director, interviewed more than 50 men asking them frank questions, initially about love and sex. One of those men was John.

What emerged was a story that is both extraordinary and touching. Years of crime, drug use and struggling to survive lead John on a search in which his life converges with others, in an unexpected place, unknown by most.

DO YOU REALLY KNOW WINDSOR?

Stand on the banks of the Hawkesbury River at the wharf west of Thompson Square and imagine the year is 1810. Governor Lachlan Macquarie has spent the last few days of December surveying the countryside and decided to name sites for new villages, and change this place, known as Green Hills, to Windsor. Macquarie established the village sites on high ground since the river has flooded regularly, sweeping away farmhouses, crops, animals and some residents to their death. These Macquarie towns were Wilberforce, Pitt Town, Castlereagh, Windsor and Richmond. Windsor became the premier town having river access to the sea, the only way farm produce could be conveyed to settlement in Sydney.

Governor Arthur Phillip had named the area Richmond Hill in 1789 and Windsor was the sister town upstream on the River Thames in Surrey, England.

Governor Arthur Phillip returned to England and Major Francis Grose was left in charge of the colony. He settled twenty two officers of the New South Wales Corps and some convicts who had completed their sentences on large parcels of land on the banks of the Hawkesbury in 1794. Boat building flourished enabling the farmers to ship vegetables easily to Sydney. Water-powered flour mills were also built to take advantage of the tidal flow of the river. The first mill to grind locally grown grain was built in the middle of the town in 1816. At one stage there were twenty six water-mills along the Hawkesbury-Nepean river system.

A road was built from Parramatta to Windsor to improve communications between settlements and Richard Rouse was commissioned to erect Toll Gates and collect a fee to pay for the road. The Toll House may still be seen in Windsor at the western end of South Creek Bridge.

You will be welcome to join Parramatta and District Historical Society which holds twice monthly history talks and conducts guided tours of historic Hambledon Cottage, Gregory Place, Parramatta. Open Thursday to Sunday 11am to 4pm. Group tours daily by appointment. Telephone 9635-6924. Email: parramattahist@tpg.com.au. Visit website: parramattahistorical.org.au

THROUGH STATE MP'S EYES by Ray Williams, Member for Hawkesbury

Ryan Williams and local Castle Hill soccer fans supporting a 'Hills' based soccer competition

A HILLS SOCCER COMPETITION

Many local soccer clubs and residents are saying it doesn't make sense for families to travel over an hour to get to a soccer match on a Saturday. Hills residents value their family time. There are enough clubs, teams, players and huge potential for The Hills to accommodate its own competition. Clubs based in The Hills currently play in the Gladesville and Granville Associations and with some of their clubs based as far away as Hunters Hill and Regents Park, parents and players have to travel to away games at these locations. The idea to form a Hills Association has had an overwhelmingly positive response from the local community who see the sense and logic in this simple proposal. The Hills is a great place to live and deserves its own identity. With almost 30,000 new homes in various stages of development across the Hills Shire and soccer the most popular sport played in Western Sydney, interest in this sport is expected to increase dramatically in the future. I recently hosted representatives from 15 Soccer Clubs across 'The Hills' at a meeting to discuss the formation of a new Hills Football Association. It was the view of the meeting there is a real opportunity to offer young people an association which can foster and enhance their talents from a very early age, right through to playing soccer in senior divisions at the very highest level. A local 'Hills' competition would also see increased interest from women of all ages by providing them with an opportunity to play soccer in their local area and minimise their time away from families. I look forward to assisting Hills based clubs to form their own association in the near future.

NEW ROUSE HILL HOSPITAL

Some years ago I was asked to comment on the need for a hospital in Rouse Hill given the ever increasing population in our area of north Western Sydney. It was therefore pleasing to recently welcome Health Minister Jillian Skinner to our area to announce a new hospital which will be built at Rouse Hill. The new Rouse Hill hospital forms part of the $1 billion earmarked for health infrastructure projects resulting from the lease of 49% of the state's electricity poles and wires network. The New South Wales Government is committed to building better health services where people need them, which is why an investment in the Rouse Hill area is vital. Our rapidly growing community needs a hospital closer to home. The plans for the new Rouse Hill Hospital will be developed as part of the Hospitals Growth Program which will construct new hospitals in areas of high population growth including Rouse Hill.

ITALIAN PRIME MINISTER VISITS KELLYVILLE

A vital aspect of the North West Rail line is the Skytrain which when constructed will form the 4 kilometre section of rail line between Bella Vista and Rouse Hill. The $340 million skytrain contract which is well underway was awarded to the Salini-Impregilo joint venture, an Italian company. The Prime Minister of Italy Matteo Renzi, who was in Australia for the G20 summit, recently visited the site of the Kellyville station. The skytrain project is already supporting more than 170 local jobs, with another 75 workers to be recruited as construction activity increases in coming months. There are now 13 construction sites in full swing along the route, and three tunnel boring machines are digging out Australia's longest tunnels, as the NSW Government works flat-out to open the train line to customers in the first half of 2019.

Meet Frank. Poor Frank came into care as a baby kitten suffering trauma to his tail, in the vets opinion most likely from being swung around by his tail. Part of his tail suffered so much damage it died and dropped off. Due this injury his tail has now been amputated and we are seeking sponsorship to help cover his vet bills. Frank has fully recovered and will thankfully go on to lead a normal, happy life. Frank has been in foster case since 13 January 2008, for 6.9 years

$24,000 In Funding For Slab Barn Conservation

Town Planner Kathryn Saunders and Council's Heritage Advisor, Otto Cserhalmi outside a slab barn

The preservation of local history has gained a boost as 12 local residents will receive matched funding to help conserve slab barns in the Hawkesbury.

Hawkesbury City Council and the NSW Office of Environment & Heritage have jointly provided the funding assistance through the Local Heritage Assistance Fund, the Mayor of Hawkesbury, Councillor Kim Ford explained.

"I hope this funding will encourage the retention and conservation of old Hawkesbury slab barns," Councillor Ford said.

"Many barns are over 150 years old and most are still in use today."

A maximum of $2000 was allocated per applicant to be matched by the owner's contribution. In most cases the owner's contribution exceeded the funding provided.

As a forerunner to this funding, a Slab Barn Study in 2010 – jointly funded by Council and the Department of Planning – found that at least 106 slab barns and or slab outbuildings exist throughout the Hawkesbury area. Many of these early barns can be found from Freemans Reach along the Hawkesbury River to Wilberforce and Pitt Town.

The study documented an important part of the early development of the Hawkesbury region which involved the construction of timber buildings used for the storing of animals, crops, machinery and other materials.

It also identified the location of barns to help the community to care for the barns, with appropriate heritage advice and financial support. Thanks to this study, there is now an inventory of barns with descriptions and locations.

Councillor Ford said the study was a "valuable step" towards recording the history of the Hawkesbury.

"It is obvious that the history and heritage of the Hawkesbury is highly valued by our community," he said.

Council offers a free heritage advisory service for owners of heritage items and other significant sites or structures, call (02) 4560 4444 for more information or visit Council's website at www.hawkesbury.nsw.gov.au.

The full Slab Barn Study is also available on Council's website. For more information, contact Kathryn Saunders, Town Planner on (02) 4560 4483 or kathryn.saunders@hawkesbury.nsw.gov.au.

Nominations now open for the National Heritage List

Federal Member for Mitchell, Alex Hawke MP, calls for new places to be included on the National Heritage List.

National Heritage places are of outstanding heritage value to the nation and reveal the richness and diversity of Australia's extraordinarily natural environment. Mitchell is no exception and is home to many of these iconic places.

"National Heritage places capture the diversity of stories that have helped to shape our great nation and inform our sense of self.

This year the National Heritage List has surpassed the major milestone of more than 100 places. We're now adding to this with additional places that are important to our story as a nation.

Nominations for the National Heritage List close on Friday, 6 February 2015.

AUSSIE STOCK PROTECTION

As the temperatures start to warm the risk from grass fires significantly increases. A combination of a series of dry, hot days, combined with high speed winds, can turn verdant paddocks into a fire holocaust in a matter of minutes. Grass fires have been known to spread at up to 30km/h, trapping livestock and taking farmers by complete surprise.

“Too often, valuable cattle and sheep, sometimes even top quality stud animals, are lost through lack of planning,” said Aussie Pumps product manager, Brad Farrugia.

Australian Pump Industries stress the need for graziers and major livestock producers to have a “fire safe” plan in place. The company is regarded as a world leader in the design of portable high pressure fire pumps. After consultation with Government departments and fire fighting authorities, they developed a simple plan for livestock protection.

1. Identify safe havens

The area needs to be centrally located, easy to access and strategically placed, not adjoining timbered or brush area. There are a few factors that are important when planning your area.

Grass type: A paddock containing green summer crops will offer good protection, as it will not burn as readily as a paddock that has dry long grass. The DPI (NSW Department of Primary Industries) suggest a paddock that has been systematically grazed in spring and early summer to reduce dry feed will also suit for a low risk area.

Sufficient drinking water: Animals are susceptible to radiant heat, stress and dehydration. Ensure there is sufficient drinking water, i.e. a dam or stream to enable stock to remain in the area during periods of high to extreme temperatures.

Adequate amount of feed: Livestock may need to stay for an extended period of time. A supply of feed is very important to avoid sickness and maintain health levels.

Fire break: A low risk area needs at least a 20m wide cleared or ploughed perimeter. Ensure that the area is clear of any unnecessary combustible material (leaves, bark, branches, etc).

2. Speed is of the essence

Under some circumstances it may even be necessary to move stock early on high fire danger days. Be prepared, think out the plan in advance.

3. Sufficient fire fighting equipment

Be prepared to put out spot fires and wet down danger areas. A trailer or ute mounted fire pump and tank will provide a mobile option. Make sure the pump is capable of delivering sufficient water.

“We developed the Aussie Fire Chief for applications just like this,” said Farrugia. “We have a hugely efficient pump design that develops pressures of up to 100psi and flows of up to 450 litres/ per minute. The Fire Chief has proved itself to be the design and reliability leader time and again,” he said.

The Fire Chief is considered the world’s finest lightweight portable fire pump. Apart from being used by major Government departments and fire fighting authorities around Australia, the product has been widely accepted in Europe, Africa and in some areas of South East Asia. “We even supplied this superbly engineered product to US customers, who are amazed to find that there is no similar product made in the USA!” said Farrugia.

The Fire Chief is powered by a genuine Honda petrol engine and comes standard with heavy duty steel skids and anti-vibration mounts. An optional one piece welded steel roll frame is also available.

The Chief’s big brother, the Aussie Mr T is a mighty twin impeller pump that develops pressures of up to 130psi and flows to 550 litres/minute. It comes with either Honda 9hp or 13hp petrol engine, available in recoil or electric start. A big Yanmar 10hp diesel drive with electric start is a popular choice as well. Diesel fuel is considered much safer than petrol because of its lower flash point.

“Many farmers are changing over to the big Yanmar diesels because of the inherent fire safety, lower running costs and overall reliability,” said Farrugia.

Jason Homan is planning stock protection for the hobby farm in Fiddletown. He has a couple of dams close to the cattle paddock and an Aussie Fire Chief to manage spot fires.

All the Australian Pump fire pump range offer a self-priming feature that ensure the pump primes, first time, every time. Only Aussie offers a vertical suction lift of up to 7.6 metres, enabling the operator to draw water from wells, streams or dams.

“That’s a major feature and can be a matter of life or death, when a fire is on the move”, said Farrugia. “We’ve heard horror stories about third world pumps, sometimes masquerading under popularly advertised brands, that simply won’t prime in an emergency!” he said.

Australian Pump is unique in offering a 5 year warranty on all of their Aussie Quik Prime product range.

Further information including guidelines on how to protect property, life and livestock is readily available from Australian Pump Industries, along with a copy of the company’s current complete product guide. Further information is also available from the website www.aussiepumps.com.au or from Aussie Gold Distributors across Australia.

#ourABC

The epic thriller Labyrinth continues. Back in 13th century Carcassonne, Alais (Jessica Brown Findlay) recalls what her father said on his deathbed - of her duty to unite all three volumes of the Grail trilogy and take them to a secret cave in the village of Los Seres in the Sabarthes mountains. Her sister Oriane (Katie McGrath) has also learnt the secret of the Grail and wants the power to herself. Under threat Alais and her friend Sajhe (Matthew Beard) flee to the mountains knowing Oriane will stop at nothing to track her down.

In the mountains Alais learns all about the Grail from its keeper Harif and he explains that the Grail has the power to prolong and heal life.

Back in the present day Alice (Vanessa Kirby) discovers that it was Marie-Cecile De L'Oradore (Claudia Gerini) who was funding the archaeological dig and who is seeking the treasures of the Grail for herself. Will (Sebastian Stan) and Alice discover that she is the leader of a secret and violent sect after Will shows Alice a secret drawing of the labyrinth, but they are disturbed when Marie-Cecile and her vicious son, Francois, turn up.

Meanwhile Alice visits local writer and scholar, Audric Baillard (John Hurt), after he sends her a letter. Alice senses an ally in Audric and her feelings are confirmed after she shows him the labyrinth disc she found at her aunt's house. He goes on to tell her about Alais's life and she is thrilled to learn of her ancestry. Alice realises, just like the Alais before her, that it is her destiny to protect the secret of the Grail...

From the director of Samson and Delilah, Warwick Thornton, comes a collection of poignant, sad, funny and absurd true ghost tales from across Australia which he brings to life with some of Australia's most celebrated actors as the storytellers.

In April of 2012, Warwick put out a call around Australia for people to come forward with their Indigenous ghost stories. There was only one rule - that the stories must be firsthand.

The Koori grapevine went to work and before long he was inundated with ghostly stories from both black and white people from almost every corner of the country. Some people had more than one story, so from 120 people he heard over 150 stories.

"Aboriginal people live on the threshold of two dimensions. One is a world of everyday reality, and the other a world of spirits, demons and entities. We can live an ordinary life with dead ancestors and demons all vying for space around us. "Although we might seem stoic and complacent, with the clash of these two worlds the reality is we are scared shitless. When I embarked on this journey to the other side, I imagined finding a whole bunch of scary as hell ghost stories - but what I ended up finding was a beautiful collection of poignant stories about family and connection," says Thornton. Performers include: Sacha Horler, Jack Charles, Deborah Mailman, Marcia Langton, Bryan Brown, Claudia Karvan, Aaron Pedersen, Shari Sebbens.

The Great Australian Race Riots
Sunday, 11 January at 8.30pm on SBS ONE (3-part series)
New Episode

Bestselling author, columnist, and raconteur Peter FitzSimons takes an explosive journey across Australia, reliving the country's forgotten race riots in a new 3-part documentary series, The Great Australian Race Riot.

In his inimitable style, FitzSimons exposes heroes and villains on a journey that spans more than 170 years, and the breadth of the country. Along the way, he demonstrates how mobs of every ethnicity have transformed our nation. FitzSimons sets out from the sands of Cronulla beach, site of Australia's most notorious recent race riot, to quickly reveal that this riot was no aberration. He visits original riot locations retracing both the social context and the path each mob takes, be they Japanese, British, Timorese, Russians, Italians, Yugoslav, Iranian, or Indigenous Australians. In this shocking, heartfelt, and at times humorous journey, FitzSimons shows that The Great Australian Race Riot is a consistently revealing window into who we are - and what kind of Australia we want to be.

New Series

The Miracle Hunter takes viewers on a global journey to meet real life superhumans, from the backstreets of Bucharest to the jungles of Bali, to witness ordinary people demonstrating the most extraordinary powers. Are there people out there who can do things science simply can't explain?

Presenter Simon Farnaby turns miracle hunter to fulfil his childhood dream of coming face to face with a superhero. Simon has long been fascinated with superhuman abilities, and in this series he seeks out the men, women and children who believe they actually possess special powers.

Over the series, Simon will witness inexplicable superhuman abilities - death defying acts which confound physics and push the human body beyond the realms of possibility. Will he discover that we all have a bit of the superhuman in us?

In the first episode, Simon meets different people around the world who claim to be able to control nature's most powerful forces.

ABC 2 Story Club
Wednesday, 21 January 2015
10:00pm

Story Club is a comedy show with a difference. Think stand-up, but sitting down. Then add a narrative. Sophisticated and hilarious, Story Club brings together Australia's finest raconteurs -including stand-up comics, novelists, journalists, commentators, poets and musicians - to create an event that is both funny and unexpected.

Hand-picked from the live event of the same name, each episode of Story Club features two stories that are sometimes alarming and ultimately revealing - but are always entertaining and always true.

Created by Zoë Norton Lodge and Ben Jenkins and held at the Giant Dwarf Theatre, the live event is a themed storytelling night where some of Australia's best storytellers gather in front of an audience to reveal their funniest stories, darkest moments and their shameful secrets, all while sitting in a stupidly ornate chair and reading from an awkwardly large book.

During series one, the storytellers will share stories about coming out, staging one's own death, mistaken identity and accidental assault, cousin love, what it means to be Australia's favourite bastard and what happens when you revisit your travel diaries from 50 years ago.

As well as stories about drunken Santas and fraudulent Jamie Olivers, there are tales of sexy mishaps with cleaners, terrifyingly experimental coppers, grandmas with axes to grind and geriatrics arm wrestling for beer.

The stories are vulnerable, they're confronting and they're damn funny.

Episode three: Wednesday, January 21 at 10.00pm

Ben Jenkins meets a policeman with delusions of grandeur and a nerf gun, and Patrick Magee relives the time he was Batman with an eating disorder.

9 All New Kings Cross ER Thurs

Episode 10

Shopping Mall Overdose

New face in Emergency, Dr Jessica Green treats a young man who was found behaving aggressively in a shopping mall. She suspects he may have overdosed on a number of drugs. But when a disturbing item is found in the man's clothing, keeping both the patient and her staff safe, becomes a priority.

Two Bucks and a Tenor

Hot summer nights in the city draw party people to the entertainment precinct. This brings some weird and wonderful cases into St Vincents Emergency. Two young men have managed to make their bucks night unforgettable by injuring themselves in most unusual ways. Meanwhile, a professional singer discovers that the best pain relief can sometimes be an Italian love song.

Action Jackson

Head of St Vincents Emergency Professor Gordian Fulde treats 50 year-old car enthusiast and action man Graham Jackson who was trapped in his car after being cleaned up by a garbage truck. In this final episode of the series, Gordian has the last word on life in the busiest Emergency Department in the country.

SUSTAINABILITY IN THE WORK PLACE IS A CHALLENGING GOAL!

Interior Designer Fi Thomas discusses steps for businesses towards an eco-friendly practice

“Sustainable development is development that meets the needs of the present without compromising the ability of future generations to meet their own needs”. (United Nations, 1987)”

Can sustainability be achieved in work spaces with base building regulations and processes, office fit outs to match work requirements, tight budgets and staff who may or may not care about sustainability? The topic is huge with multiple accredited green organisations involved each with their own set of codes. Therefore this article will provide a brief overview only and showcase activities we can participate in to help a business work towards a better and eco-friendly practice.

The Built Environment

Many architects and designers are encouraged to create sustainable buildings for the future. They seek to obtain a higher Green Star rating.

“Green Star is a comprehensive, national, voluntary environmental rating system that evaluates the environmental design and construction of buildings and communities.”

REFERENCE :: FROM GREEN BUILDING COUNCIL AUSTRALIA WEBSITE

Work Place Practice

Interior Designers when creating new fit outs already adopt a sustainable approach when they utilise activity based and hot deskwork practises. In the past all staff whether part time or full time might be allocated a desk, now there might be 250 staff but 220 desks. Another common work style is to rent a chair or space within a shared office. This sustainable approach to space, systems, processes and resources means that overall less energy and paper are used.

Interior Design

Sustainability in the work place is definitely something that we all have a responsibility to work towards. A designer can encourage clients along a particular direction. Floor plans and spatial layouts can be orientated to increase the amount of natural light and ventilation, reducing energy expenditure. I can also specify low VOC workstations, furniture, carpets and paints can also be specified. A vertical green wall not only looks striking it serves a purpose of filtering the air quality. Wall panelling can be a noise absorber, assist in climate control as well as a decoration element of a fit out. This sustainable culture has been demonstrated in fit outs such as Commonwealth Bank, ANZ Centre and Google.

Instyle Life Sustainable Textile Collection on a screen system

Workplace Furniture and Workstations

Traditionally office fit outs and renovations create a huge amount of landfill when furniture and workstations are discarded. There are some companies that resell workstations or reupholster seating to minimise the environmental impact. Responsible manufacturers like Workspace will offer stewardship agreements, where products will be accepted back at the end of their life for refurbishment and reuse, or any disassembly and recycling, to dramatically reduce landfill problems.

Workstations A workstation constitutes a large proportion of the furniture within a work place. Workspace Commercial Furniture has a sustainability policy in place. During the development of the Track workstation system, all materials and processes to be used in its manufacture have been assessed for their environmental sustainability. "We source our flat panel materials, including low emission E0 and E1 rated products, from certified suppliers and we can supply many certified screen fabrics from Australian sources. "Therefore, the Track system meets the stringent requirements of certification programs such as GECA, Eco label and AFRDI Green Tick, assisting building companies to work towards Green Star building accreditation. The good news is some fabrics for workstation screens are sustainable products. GEO Screen on workstations from Instyle is made from 100% Tencel cellulose and is part of their LIFE Sustainable Textiles collection.

Furniture Part of the Green Star rating program previously mentioned, is that the furniture should be environmentally certified. AFRDI Green Tick Certification confirms to specifiers, architects and designers that a piece of furniture meets a robust yet realistic level of sustainability requirements.

Unfortunately there are not many pieces of furniture that have this provision at this stage. Task chairs such as the Tempo Chair from Workspace have opted for the Green Tick certification. Designers can specify fabric for upholstery in eco-friendly fabrics such as GLIDE. The upholstery shown in the task chair below is made from 100 per cent EthEco wool (low pesticide wool from non-mulesed sheep raised on holistically managed farms) and is part of the LIFE Textiles collection from Instyle.

Conclusion Sustainability or eco-friendly work places are becoming more and more common with governments and large corporations having expectations that they need to deliver on this. Architects and designers are introducing the concept and the products to clients for their fit outs. Sustainability is a hard goal to achieve in the work place but not impossible and not without benefits.

Improved Animal Welfare

No Mulesing and Reduced Pesticide Use: EthEco® wool is sourced from farms that have ceased mulesing, which is the practice of removing skin from a sheep's hindquarters.

Most Merino sheep in Australia are mulesed and without it, these sheep are highly susceptible to flystrike. INSTYLE sources from specialised Merino sheep that, unlike traditional merinos, are free of skin wrinkling and naturally resistant to flystrike, therefore mulesing and insecticidal treatments are generally not required. The absence of skin wrinkles means that the sheep can be easily shorn without inflicting shearing wounds. EthEco® wool is sourced from sheep that are naturally resistant to pests, reducing or eliminating the need for pesticides. EthEco® wool contains zero or negligible pesticide residues and meets the EU Flower ecolabel requirements.

Why advertise in the local TV guide?

- Over 10,000 magazines are picked up by local consumers by choice from stands in local shopping centres, clubs and petrol stations.
- The TV guide is eagerly sought after and in high demand with our pick up rate constantly exceeding 99%.
- A full page ad costs less than printing 10,000 flyers and distribution is free. Rather than being seen as junk mail, it is picked up to be viewed daily.
- As a TV Guide, your ad will be seen again and again over the 16 day period over which the magazine is designed to be kept.
- Value for money, our display advertisements cost less than half of the average cost of other local publications which are viewed once only.
- Local readers support the local advertisers and appreciate and support a local free TV guide.
