THE HAWKESBURY RIVER BRIDGE

is part of the Sydney Trains rail network. The bridge is a multi-span underbridge located at 58.46 km on the Main North Line. It was constructed around 1945, adjacent to the original 1889 structure which it replaced.

The main river spans consist of a variety of steel through trusses with concrete land spans. The substructure consists of two abutments on shallow foundations and nine piers supported by caissons bedded into the river soil or rock.

Underwater inspections are undertaken every six years as part of ST's bridge management program. The most recent underwater inspection was in May 2013. Results identified significant deterioration on the top of the downstream reinforced concrete cylinder of pier no 2, including concrete section loss of up to 750mm in the zone directly underneath the marrying slab.

Sydney Trains is reviewing its options to fix these issues.

Mobility Scooter Safety Tips

Mobility scooters usually have three or four wheels attached to a frame supporting a chair and a steering wheel. People who are mobile enough to operate mobility scooters but are challenged when walking distances generally use these products. A mobility scooter user is deemed to be a pedestrian under the NSW Road Rules.

Most mobility scooters are safe if used appropriately. A very recent survey jointly conducted by ACCC, NRMA, Choice, EnableNSW and others found that about 95% of trips on a mobility scooter involve no injury or damage of any kind. This might be a comforting discovery for many of us who either postpone or avoid the use of a scooter for the fear of potential accident or injury. It is further reassuring to learn from the same survey that 93% of the users have chosen to use a mobility scooter for better ability to maintain independence. So if you value your independence and are able to use a scooter do not put off that decision. Comfort Discovered, 511 Pacific Highway, Mt Colah (Ph 9987 4500, Open 7 days) has a special promotion on mobility scooters to celebrate 30 years of service in the local community. They have a range of scooters to suit every need in their new and spacious show room.

It is important that you buy the scooter from some one who has the experience and knowledge to guide you not only on the most appropriate equipment for you, but who can assess whether the potential user is capable enough to manage and use the scooter safely for the user and for the community. In the "Guide to using Motorised wheel chair" RTA provides several safety tips.

- Take extra care when leaving the kerb to cross the road.
- Attach a safety flag and at night use light and reflectors to improve the visibility.
- Avoid highways, major roads and other areas used by heavy vehicles.
- Always be prepared to stop.

Like every thing else in life, use a lot of common sense and prepare in advance for your trip. If you are in doubt about a route, do not forget to contact the local council's Access Committee. They may be able to provide information to plan a safer trip.

In the meantime if you think you want to test drive a scooter and see what difference does it make for you, before you even consider owning one, please do not hesitate to contact the friendly team at Comfort Discovered, Mt Colah, Hornsby.

Our resources provide valuable advice to stay happy and healthy at home.

Let's start with - Making Home Safer for older people. We have a free booklet that includes a number of simple home safety solutions, a home safety checklist and information on where seniors can access home maintenance and modification support.

Making Home Safer provides practical solutions to help safeguard seniors' health and independence at home and shares a range of ideas for creating a SAFE environment AT HOME.

Sue McGarry, Director of Home Instead Senior Care, Hornsby and Hills Office says...

"It is important that the home remains a safe, healthy and practical living environment for as long as possible,"

"It is critical for families to invest the time in identifying the necessary home safety solutions, maintenance and modifications to ensure it stays that way."

The most common issues found are trip hazards, a lack of assistive equipment, such as grab bars in bathrooms, and storage that is too high or too low.

Preventable home hazards, such as throw rugs, slippery floors or loose railings, can be particularly harmful, leading to falls and injuries that can threaten an older person's ability to live at home independently.

Sue says, "Home Instead CAREGivers are trained to identify and help remedy any potential risks to older people at home, minimizing potential slips, trips, falls and other accidents in and around the home.

"When we go into homes, we see red flags that are easily overlooked by those who are familiar with the home."

"More often than not, these are relatively easy and affordable fixes—and could make the difference between a trip to the emergency room and staying safe at home, instead."

Amnesty For International Students

Julie Owens calls on the Federal Government to grant amnesty to international students caught up in the wage scam at 7-Eleven.

“Following on from the exposure of exploitation of international students at 7-Eleven, we need to give assistance to the victims of unfair labour practices by granting an amnesty to those affected by the half-pay scam.” Says Ms Owens.

“This is essential for those who are scared that they have breached their visa conditions through no fault of their own.

“In the Parramatta region, we have a large international student population. Most of these students are restricted to 40 hours of paid work a fortnight before a visa breach occurs.” She says.

The international students caught up in this racket are victims of these unfair and illegal labour practices are vulnerable international students; being paid for a 20 hour week after doing 40 hours work.

“Recent media exposure of student exploitation by businesses using a half-pay scam is deplorable and I call on the Government to give employees caught in middle of the 7-Eleven wage scam amnesty from visa breeches.

“The Federal Government needs to assure the international community that students who come to this country will be treated with respect and are entitled to fair working conditions like any other Australian worker,” says Ms Owens.

Councillor Ford elected as Mayor for fifth term

Councillor Kim Ford was elected Mayor of the City of Hawkesbury for a fifth term at last Tuesday’s Extra-ordinary Council Meeting. Councillor (Dr) Warwick Mackay OAM was elected as Deputy Mayor.

Councillor Ford was first elected to Council in June 2010 and was first elected Mayor in September 2011.

Councillor Mackay, who has served on Council most recently since 2008, was also a Councillor from 1987 until 1999.

“I welcome Councillor Mackay to the role of Deputy Mayor,” Councillor Ford said.

“Councillor Mackay is known for his longstanding contribution to our community, not only for his work on Council, but also for his voluntary service with many organisations.

“I thank Councillor Bob Porter, the former Deputy Mayor for his support during his term,” he added.

To help the community keep up to date with what is happening at Council and to provide important information that affects our community the Mayor has started an online weekly column ‘From the Mayor’s Desk’ which can be found on Council’s website at www.hawkesbury.nsw.gov.au.

“Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs”

For its October 2015 production, Dural Musical Society presents the delightful children’s story “Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs”. This is a pantomime that all the family will enjoy, with performances from 16 to 31 October. Written by Ben Crocker, a UK based pantomime specialist, this show has something for everyone. Of interest is that “Snow White” doesn’t only strongly feature the young members of the society, known as Junior DMS, the show is also being directed, choreographed and musically directed by a team of young adults – all experienced performers themselves, yet all in their early twenties.

With a couple of ‘old hands’ assisting this youthful production team through auditions, it was obvious from the outset that the casting was going to be very difficult due to the large number of talented performers auditioning. After extensive deliberation, the result was a highly motivated cast who can’t wait to perform for you.

As per DMS tradition, the seven dwarfs and the young fairy have been cast twice in order to give more children a chance to show what they can do. So, if you are coming along to see a specific child, you will need to make sure you know which matinee and evening performances they are doing.

The role of Snow White is portrayed by Natasha Markham, a talented newcomer to DMS. As well as Snow White and the seven dwarfs there is, as you would expect, a very nasty Queen and her devoted henchman played by Lisa Clarke and Adam Garden. In their plan to get rid of Snow White they hire two idiots, played by Brian Chapman and Max Hearn-Sarchfield, to take her in to the woods and never bring her back to the palace. Thank goodness that as well as the seven dwarfs, there are some other ‘good guys’ to help Snow White. DMS resident fairy Judy Clarke returns to the stage after a break and is assisted by the two apprentice fairy’s Eloise Candsell and Chelsea Widdicombe who play alternate shows.

Fortunately Fairy Wonderwings and her apprentice Fairy Goodheart are helped by Prince Frederick, Danny and Dolly Dumpling, portrayed respectively by Josephine Pawlicka, Laith Tucci and Eddie Bruce.

To round off the cast we have the magic mirror (of course) and a chorus of servants, guards, villagers and animals of the woods.

The production team of Julian Floriano, Laura Murdocca, Kate Gandy, Stephanie Quaglia, Paris Hambridge and Kelvin Hui are to be congratulated on pulling together another high quality pantomime. This show will be popular – it is fun filled and packed with great songs, some of which are from popular children’s movies.

So if you are a child in the age range of eight to eighty eight, book early and get yourself and the family along for a good laugh. You may like to try our Pre-Show Dining Package which includes a meal at 42 Bannerman Trattoria E Bar before the show, and your reserved seats for the performance.

POLICE REPORT

Police issue infringement after takeaway store refuses service to customer with Guide Dog

Police have issued a store owner with an infringement notice after they allegedly refused service to a customer with a Guide Dog at the weekend.

Officers attached to Far South Coast Local Area Command have been told the 67-year-old man entered the takeaway store with his Guide Dog Beach Road at Bateman's Bay, on Saturday morning (12 September 2015).

The man was allegedly approached by the owner a short time later who refused him service and asked him to leave the store.

He later reported the incident to Batemans Bay Police who attended the location and issued an infringement notice to the owner.

NSW Police Corporate Sponsor for Vulnerable Communities, Assistant Commissioner Denis Clifford, said the police have been working closely with Guide Dogs Australia to encourage education and inclusion of people living with impaired vision.

"The use of Guide Dogs is about improving the quality of life for those living with blindness or vision impairment," Assistant Commissioner Clifford said.

"It is therefore an offence to refuse entry to a person with a Guide Dog and police can and will issue on the spot fines to those who choose to discriminate," Assistant Commissioner Clifford said.

For further information about the legal rights of Guide Dogs and their handlers to enter food service businesses, or how you can best assist a patron who has impaired vision in your venue, please contact Guide Dogs NSW/ACT on (02) 9412 9300.

Aussie Pumps

EARLY WARNING FIRE SEASON

Firefighting authorities around the country are warning of a potential catastrophic fire season! Early warnings are based on the deepening El Nino effect and unseasonably high rainfall over summer that have put key east coast areas and southern states in danger of potentially the worst fires in decades!

Australian Pump Industries, one of Australia's leading pump manufacturers and distributors, has fast tracked their seasonal bushfire survival programme with a view to ensuring that farmers and homeowners get the best protection. Called "Aussie Fire Safe", the programme details a wide range of initiatives combined to defend property, crops, livestock and human lives.

The Aussie Fire Chief has been lauded internationally and is regarded as being the world's best lightweight portable fire pump. It is the only product of its kind in the world that comes with a five year warranty, a sure sign to the user that the Company not only believes in the product but stands behind it 100%!

The Fire Chief was developed for Australian bushfire fighting conditions and is built to international ISO quality standards. "Buying a product that works is the first and most important fundamental in choosing a fire pump" said Aussie Pump's Product Manager Brad Farrugia. "We hear horror stories about people who buy third world fire pumps and then find they don't perform when the chips are down," he said.

The first fundamental for a fire pump is its ability to self-prime fast and effectively. The Aussie Fire Chief will prime first time, every time and will draft water through a vertical lift of 7.6 metres. It produces a very impressive 450 litres per minute maximum flow and offers delivery heads in the standard version of up to 75 meters (100 psi)!

The Chief can be powered by either a petrol or diesel drive engine. The standard petrol drive is a 5.5hp genuine Honda engine with low oil protection. Those pumps come with an indispensable set of steel skids and anti-vibration mounts. The mounts are designed to extend engine life by dampening vibration whilst the skids provide a level and stable platform to operate the pump from.

"Some pumps don't come with any kind of standard skid arrangement," said Farrugia. "That means that if for some reason the pump is pulled off balance, say with a fire hose being tugged, the engine oil cut-out can activate, stopping the pump at a potentially crucial point in the firefighting process," he said.

The heart of the Fire Chief is a huge 7" one piece closed style impeller. It is superbly balanced for maximum performance. The impeller runs in a heavy duty volute that produces outstanding hydraulic characteristics.

Both pump and engine are Honda approved and match tested to give consumers the very best outcome.

Big 2" suction flanges also standard equipment on the Aussie Fire Chief. The massive check valve can be easily serviced by removing the flanged suction port, a unique Aussie Pumps feature.

The pump also comes with metal caps and chains on the discharge ports, a feature found normally only on professional firefighting equipment.

Our machines will stand any test and will out-perform and outlast even competitor's twin impeller pumps of similar horsepower.

For further information on the Fire Chief and copies of the free Aussie Fire Safe Survival Guide are readily available from Aussie Pump distributors and outlets throughout Australia and the South Pacific.

Abbey Vahtrik from Tennyson NSW checks out an Aussie Fire Chief as the family prepares their survival plan in time for the fire season.

Your Garden

Bonsai

by Laura Rittenhouse

www.laurarittenhouse.com

Bonsai is an umbrella term used to describe dwarf trees grown in small pots. The word itself is of Japanese origin but the practice of creating bonsai began in China as long as 2000 years ago when stunted trees were found in nature and collected for gifts. The traditional Chinese method of bonsai is called penjing and differs slightly from Japanese bonsai yet both produce the well-recognised, lovely miniaturised forms of giant trees.

At September's garden club meeting, Lief Rosengaard explained both the history of bonsai and the more practical side of creating and caring for these plants. It quickly became obvious that bonsai is not a hobby for the time-poor. In order to maintain the decorative look of the plants and simply to keep them alive, near-daily attention is required. Because of their limited soil and root structure, they dry out easily. Each plant must be misted regularly and given a good drink weekly to keep them healthy. They want fresh air and sunlight to survive but prefer filtered sun. And, of course, they need regular pruning, not just to keep the pot and plant in balance but also to encourage the tree to grow into the vision held in the gardener's imagination.

Which leads me to one of the universal traits of bonsai practitioners: patience. Seedlings do not become diminutive versions of their mighty kin without time. Not just years, but decades and sometimes, centuries. Don't let that deter you though, it's never too late to begin a new passion and the best hobbies are those that never end.

Our next meeting is October 1st when Betty will tell us about her trip to Keukenhof Gardens in the Netherlands to see the tulips.

If you're interested in gardening, join us at the Macquarie Towns Garden Club. We meet at 2:00 p.m. on the first Thursday of each month at the Windsor Library. Check us out at: www.macquarietownsgardenclub.wordpress.com. If you have suggestions or feedback for me, send it c/o: contribute@hillstohawkesbury.com.au.

Your Suburb Honours A Real Person by Trevor Patrick

Samuel Henry Horne arrived at Sydney Cove on September 20, 1817 in the convict transport 'Lord Eldon'. He was described as having a ruddy complexion, black hair, hazel eyes and being 5 feet 4 inches in height. He was given a Conditional Pardon on October 20, 1812, and appointed Constable at Parramatta in October, 1824. As a reward for his part in the capture of bushrangers Dalton and Macnamara on June 22, 1830, he received a land grant of 320 acres adjoining John Thorn's grant. Horne was granted a full pardon on August 8, 1831.

The suburb HORNSBY commemorates the man

Horne never lived on his grant 'Hornsby Place' which extended from Pearce's Corner, south along Pennant Hills Road to Thorn's grant. Horne sold the property in the late 1850s and lived the rest of his life in the District of Patrick Plains (Singleton) as member of the police force, holding various positions of importance: Bailiff of the Court of Petty Sessions, Inspector of Distilleries and Chief Constable. He died at the age of 87 years and is buried at Whittingham Cemetery, Singleton 1886.

There are dozens of fascinating stories about the people and places along the Pennant Hills range which stretches from the northern shore of the Parramatta River at Rydalmere and Melrose Park, through Brush Farm, Mobbs Hill, Carlingford Beecroft, West Pennant Hills, Thornleigh and Hornsby.

In Search of the Pennant Hills book takes you on a journey of discovery on every page and is richly Illustrated with historic pictures and maps, fully referenced for any future investigation in Australian archives.

Doctor Who
Sunday 20 September, 7:40pm
New Series

#ourABC

The highly anticipated ninth series of Doctor Who explodes onto ABC TV and it promises to be one hell of a journey.

During this electrifying new 12-part series, the Doctor (Peter Capaldi) is joined by Clara Oswald (Jenna Coleman) for time travel on a cinematic scale. Having the time of their lives, the pair meets new and old monsters, and embark on a journey that takes them to deadly alien planets, creepy underwater bases, Viking villages, a global Zygon uprising, and which leads them through hidden alien dens to the very end of time itself.

Plus, the Doctor will come face-to-face with Missy (Michelle Gomez), a city of Daleks, deadly mercenaries called the Mire, terrifying ghosts, and far more.

As previously announced, taking up guest roles in the new series are rising young star Maisie Williams (Game of Thrones), and comedian and award-winning writer Reece Shearsmith (An Adventure in Space and Time, The League of Gentlemen). Plus UNIT are back with Jemma Redgrave and Ingrid Oliver (Osgood) also returning for series nine. Also confirmed for guest appearances are Rebecca Front, Rufus Hound, Paul Kaye, Joivan Wade and Sophie Stone.

The ninth series has been written by lead writer Steven Moffat, Toby Whithouse, Jamie Mathieson, Peter Harness, Mark Gatiss, and new writers, Sarah Dollard and Catherine Tregenna; and directed by Hettie Macdonald, Daniel O'Hara, Ed Bazalgette, Daniel Nettheim, Justin Molotnikov, Rachel Talalay; and produced by Tracie Simpson, Derek Ritchie, Nikki Wilson and Peter Bennett.

Peaky Blinders
Monday 28 September, 9:20pm
Series Premiere

Peaky Blinders is an epic gangster drama set in the lawless streets of post-war Birmingham on the cusp of the 1920s.

Britain in 1919 is a tumultuous mix of despair and hedonism, a nation cleaned out by the extravagances of the Great War. Returning soldiers, newly-minted revolutionaries and criminal gangs all fight for survival in an industrial landscape gripped by economic upheaval.

Thomas Shelby (Cillian Murphy) and his family run the most feared and powerful local gang, the Peaky Blinders. Named for their practice of sewing razor blades into the peaks of their caps, they make money from illegal betting, protection and the black market. But Tommy's ambitions go beyond running the streets, and when a crate of guns goes missing from an arms factory, he recognises an opportunity to move up in the world. Crime pays, but business pays better.

As the leader of the Peaky Blinders, Thomas, prepares to fix his first horse race, a new policeman arrives in town in search of some guns that have been stolen. At the same time, a beautiful woman with a mysterious past begins working in the Peakys' local pub.

Treasures Of Ancient Egypt
Wednesday, 23 September at 7.30pm
New Series Premiere

If you think the treasures of Ancient Egypt are just gold, gaudiness and pyramids, think again. Alastair Sooke takes a surprising look at the real story of Ancient Egyptian art.

In this epic, visually stunning adventure through Ancient Egypt, journalist and art critic Alastair Sooke follows on from his hit series Treasures of Ancient Rome, tracking down the treasures of the longest-lasting civilization in history and uncovering the true story of their rise and fall throughout the ages. Stepping aside from the well-worn usual clichés of this era, he discovers how Egypt's unique melting pot of geography and culture created some of the most remarkable treasures the world has ever seen.

This is the story of how pharaohs protected a unique culture by carefully managing its art; how that culture flourished and lasted over 3000 years; and finally, how it collapsed in the wake of countless invasions, as the art became increasingly bizarre.

Alastair presents a fresh understanding of Egypt as he reveals that Egyptian treasures were not just about wealth and luxury – they were also about faith, politics and death as he looks at them in a unique way; through the eyes of an art critic.

Compass: For Better or Worse
Sunday 20 September, 6:30pm
5-part special

#ourABC

Jane Caro is opening closet doors and diving under the sheets to discover the secrets of a long-lasting relationship.

In this special five-part Compass series, guest presenter Jane Caro explores the secret to successful long-term relationships. In For Better or Worse, five couples lay bare their joys, challenges and heartaches; what makes a relationship work, what keeps people together, and what have they learned along the way?

We meet Hare Krishna's Pratapana and Jayasri who were celibate before meeting on the day of their arranged wedding; Saara and Ramzi, whose traditional Muslim gender roles were turned upside down; country couple Brad and Ruth reveal their struggles with addiction; Maltese Catholic Carmen and social worker Jessica who started life as best friends; and war-time sweethearts Anne and Dan, who share the hard work of a 72 year commitment.

From tender beginnings these partnerships have withstood the test of time. Interviewed by Jane Caro, each couple shares the nitty-gritty of their relationship: how they met, their first impressions, dealing with the in-laws, navigating the tough times of illness and infidelity, and the chaos of having children, right through to the unglamorous division of domestic labour. Jane asks the big life questions: can sex survive longevity, and how will they cope when their partner dies first?

In this first episode we take a look at the first flush of love - your heart skips a beat, a knowing look - or is it? We find out how it all began for our five couples.

Humans
Monday 21 September, 8:30pm
Series Final

Leo wakes up in a lab to Hobb explaining that he has cleaned up his wound. As Hobb leaves, Leo glances around the room to find other Synths strapped to examination tables.

The Hawkins family is confronted by police officers keen to search their house. Pete also enters and the Commissioner explains that Hobb's men will likely destroy the Synths. Laura explains that if they can bring proof to the public, they could use it for leverage. And that gives Mattie an idea.

At the lab, Leo tells the other Synths to make the connection so they can save Max. But as they do, they're surprised when the file doesn't work. As a technician wheels an unconscious Fred in the room, executives ask Hobb why he didn't kill him. Hobb tries to explain that people don't just want to be served; they want to be loved.

Leo confronts Karen about why she's betrayed them and she says she's fixing David Elster's mistake. He unsuccessfully asks her to help save Max's mind and unlock the secret. The Synths are freed and reunite with Leo. Mia receives a phone call from Laura, who tells her where to meet them, however Karen spots them leaving.

They all arrive safely at the rendezvous point, however the police are closing in. They flee to a church and hide in a crowd assembled for a march. Leo wonders how the police could have found their location. Can the Synths connect their minds in time, or will they be caught again?

The Wonder Of Dogs
Monday, 28 September at 8.30pm
New Episode

It's hard to believe that a Great Dane and a Chihuahua belong to the same species, yet they do. The Wonder of Dogs celebrates man's best friend in all its spectacularly different and unlikely forms, taking a snapshot of the dog population of a typical English village - Brightwell in Oxfordshire.

Presenters Kate Humble and Steve Leonard, together with leading experts, put the village dogs through a range of tests and explore why there's so much variety within a single species. And historian Ruth Goodman unearths the extraordinary stories behind some of the world's most iconic breeds.

The team also find out how the extraordinary DNA genetics of modern dogs underlies the extreme differences we see between breeds.

Episode Two:

This episode looks at the abilities of different dog breeds and the role humans play in developing them.

Included in this episode are Cocker Spaniels; Pembroke Welsh Corgis and Hunting Breeds.

THROUGH STATE MP'S EYES by Ray Williams, Member for Castle Hill

DEATH OF JAMES BARTHOLOMEW "BART" CUMMINGS, AM

On the 8th September the Premier gave me the great honour of speaking during Question Time in parliament on behalf of the late James Bartholomew Cummings. This was a very special privilege not only in my capacity as a member of the House but also as a former thoroughbred racing trainer and lifetime participant of the racing industry.

I sincerely appreciated and thanked our Premier, Mike Baird, for the offer of a State funeral to the Cummings family in acknowledgement of this iconic Australian. One knows someone has become part of the fabric of Australian culture when the whole nation calls him by his nickname—Bart. An adoring nation has certainly lost a favourite son. But Bart Cummings was more than just a great horse trainer; he was to racing what Bradman was to cricket—an adored and respected Australian sportsman.

Bart, like Bradman, set records which may never be broken, none the least winning a dozen Melbourne Cups. But it was his humble nature, his good humour and unpretentious manner, combined with his marvellous record of achievement on the turf for which he will be so fondly remembered by the Australian public. His sharp wit and famous cheeky one-liners will be forever etched in racing folklore. Once when asked by a journalist could he point to the one reason for his success, Bart simply said, "Horses". An inspector who visited his stables one day exclaimed, "Mr Cummings, there are far too many flies in the stable" to which Bart replied, "How many flies am I allowed to have?"

Bart was strapper for 1950 Melbourne Cup winner Comic Court trained by his dad, Jim, from whom he learnt his trade. Bart won his first Group 1 race with Stormy Passage in the South Australian Derby. It was a taste of things to come. He won his first Melbourne Cup when Light Fingers defeated stablemate Zieme in 1965, achieving the quinella.

Apart from the 12 Melbourne Cups he won four Golden Slippers, five Doncasters, seven Caulfield Cups, five Cox Plates, 13 Australian Cups and more than 7,000 races in total, including 266 Group 1 races, a truly phenomenal record. When Sainly won the 1996 Melbourne Cup a reporter said, "Bart, you look very emotional. There's a tear in your eye" to which Bart said, "I am. I didn't have enough on him".

In the 1989-90 racing season Bart Cummings was crowned Sydney's premier trainer, the first and still the only person to win training premierships across three Australian States. Bart was Australian racing royalty. It is a legacy this country will long remember. Bart's final moments were spent with his family and wife of 61 years, Valmae, with whom he celebrated their anniversary on Friday 28 August at their beloved Princes Farm at Castlereagh.

At a time when Australian sports men and women, famous actors, artists and politicians are regularly in the media spotlight, perhaps they could all take a leaf out of the Bart Cummings textbook. One never saw Bart making air punches after a win, never heard him spruiking his own achievements, abuse racing stewards or being rude to airline hostess. Bart had time for everyone and was a gentleman. My dad, who was also a famous Australian sportsman, once said to me, "You always know when someone is good at what they do because they will often tell you about it. It is the great ones who keep it to themselves." In Bart Australia has lost one of the greatest.

Vale James Bartholomew Cummings.

DCH ANIMAL ADOPTIONS

Hi I'm Daisy-May, an energetic lap dog, who loves attention as much as I love to run. I'm looking for a home with a backyard and an energetic owner who isn't afraid to take me for a run or an extra long walk. I'm asking for a backyard but I really also love to snuggle on the couch and bed. I was a companion dog for my elderly owner who unfortunately passed away 6 months ago and since then I've had a rough trot, but thanks to DCH I'm currently living it up in foster care whilst I wait to find my forever home. I am not good with cats at all and have not had a lot of socialising with other dogs and need an experienced person to teach me how to play with other dogs although I am getting better as I am taken on regular walks now. If you have any questions about me please don't hesitate to contact my foster mum for a chat. I am desexed, vaccinated, microchipped, flea and heartworm treated.

REMEMBER WHEN KIDS WOULD OFTEN TRAVEL IN THE BACK OF A FAMILY UTE?

The days have long gone when kids would travel in the back of the family ute or sit in the back of a station wagon turning around and looking out the back window to wave at the occupants of the car travelling behind.

Did you do such stuff? Talking about cars most families in the 1940s and 50s could not afford to buy a car.

Back around 1953-54 my parents bought their first car an old Standard 8. My father used to joke and say it was a Rolls Can Hardly (Rolls downhill and hardly makes it up again.) Still it got us around for a while. He was only able to afford the car after winning a major prize on the English Football Pools. A few years later he won another major prize and with that he bought a shop, a caravan and more cars. He had asked a neighbour to buy a car at a car auction. The neighbour could not decide upon which car to buy so he bought a few and they were all delivered to our home, where they filled the street. I have to say they were mostly rubbish cars as my father did not keep them but sold them at auction once more. I do remember that one car was an Opel, a German car.

A car I remember mostly in the 1950s was a Hillman Minx that my father bought, which we used to drive to a caravan park at Chessil Beach, in Dorset, England where our caravan was located. On one occasion upon driving home from the caravan the car's axle broke on a country road. The car ended up on it's roof. This was in the days before seat belts. We three kids (my two sisters and I) ended up upside down in the back of the car with my mother in the front passenger seat calling out "Is anyone dead?" I often wondered what she would have said it we had replied "yes we all are".

The first car that I bought was also a Hillman Minx, a 1958 model. Like most cars of the day, it was a manual with a column change. I thought it was a great car. During the first week or so after buying it, I was out the front of our home at Cabramatta washing it, when I decided to go for a drive.

A Hillman Minx similar to my first car

Not having any real destination in mind, I drove along Orange Grove Rd (now the Cumberland Hwy) and joined the Hume Hwy at Liverpool. Before I knew it, I was passing Lake George outside Canberra. After driving around our national capital for a while I headed back towards Cabramatta, but didn't get far before the car overheated. Pulling into a service station along the road, I topped up the radiator with water. After that I made sure that I carried a bottle of water for such emergencies. Those were the days when I would also carry a spare fan belt. Those days are now long gone with today's modern cars seemingly requiring much less maintenance.

Also in those days we did not even have a car radio. You would hang your trannie (transistor radio) from the rear vision mirror. Many cars did not have indicators or brake lights. You would have to use hand signals to indicate if you were stopping or turning left or right. I can't describe the hand signals you see many drivers use today but they do not indicate either turning or stopping. Perhaps they are telling people to look up into the sky.

Later cars I purchased were all automatics, but I can remember an uncle in the early 1970s saying that he would not buy an automatic because if something went wrong with the transmission it would cost a small fortune. I could not help thinking at the time, that maybe so, but with manual cars, depending on how you drove, you would spend a small fortune on replacing clutch pads every so often.

I have always felt that old cars had more character about them. But is that really true? In the 1970s I would reflect back on the cars of the 1940s & 1950s and think that. Today I feel the same about cars from the 1970s and 80s etc. I guess in 20 years so I would be reminiscing about the cars of today.

Travelling by road was so different also in the past. Roads were less crowded and you would drive along roads that were narrower or steeper than today's motorways and highways. There were more bends to go around when going uphill or downhill. Distances between towns were greater and the roads would actually go through the town centres instead of bypassing them like today. Cars were less powerful and there were also fewer trucks on the road. The closing of many country rail links has resulted in more and bigger trucks on the highways and motorways.

Getting back to the start of the article.

Yes I have travelled in the back tray of a ute in my younger days. My younger sister and myself have also sat in the back of my parent's station wagon and turned and waved at drivers of cars travelling behind.
