GLENORIE RSL OFFICIALLY RE-OPENED

Glenorie RSL recently celebrated its 50th birthday by showcasing its latest renovations. Seven years in the planning, the club has now effectively doubled in size with a raft of new facilities available to its members and guests.

Club President, Bob Frier, described his pride in finally being able to reopen the club. He said that while it hasn't been the easiest of journeys, it was the dedication of the staff and close consultation with the community that has turned this grand idea into a reality.

"We did a lot of research in other clubs. saw what they did, saw what we didn't like and picked up the things we did like," he said.

"I'm very, very proud. We are a community club for the community. We have created a club here that people can walk into with their families and feel comfortable."

The $2.5 million worth of works was officially reopened by one of the club patrons, the Federal Member for Berowra, Philip Ruddock. Mr Ruddock noted his family's long association with the area and the club's importance to the region.

"Well I've been associated with the club and the family [Ruddock's] of course have had linkages with this area over a long period of time," he said

"The club, really is quite central to Glenorie, and for many it's a home away from home. The overall amenity and what they have done will make it a much more popular venue and a meeting place for not only all the folks from Glenorie, but visitors from well beyond as well."

Mr Ruddock also made specific mention of the Club's leadership. In his view, this has been key to its success and the completion of a project like this is only achievable with the right team at the helm.

"I think Robert [Hodges] and Bob [Frier] and the team deserve our commendation because this is not an easy environment to be embarking on projects like this. The key is always leadership."

The Club now has been completely refurbished with a rebuilt foyer and entryway, new dining facilities, gaming lounge, dedicated TAB area and new balconies. Also, the club proudly increase in trade for the Club.

Additionally, new function facilities have been built at the club's lower level where it is hoped birthdays, engagements, conferences and weddings will be booked.

Stage one renovations began in November 2014 and while there were some delays because of wet weather, the works were still able to be completed for the 50th birthday deadline.

These improvements are stage one in a two stage refurbishment. Stage two is expected to begin soon with new kitchen and catering facilities a priority due to an expected

Budgerigar Society of N.S.W. Inc. Hills Branch – Ray Galbraith

A number of Hills Branch members made the trip to Gosford for the 2015 Central Coast Annual Show, resulting in Hills Resident, Michelle Angus being awarded the Reserve Champion Novice and the Opaline Variety Awards.

The latter award, after competing against all levels of exhibitors/birds was a great achievement. Based on her achievements over recent shows at which Michelle has competed, it will not be long before regrading takes place. This show attracted exhibitors from the Newcastle/Hunter and the New England regions, which allowed appraisal of the standard of the birds being bred in other area of the state.

The annual Lawn Show held at St Ives Show Ground, resulted in another good roll-up of Hills Branch members, where an informal show and B.B.Q. lunch; allowed plenty of time for conversation and catching-up with friends from other clubs. Santa also found time within his busy schedule to meet the children and provide gifts, whilst some of the not so young mums took the opportunity to sit on Santa knee, and put in their requests for Christmas.

Club members and their partners along with invited guests, attended the Pennant Hills Function Room, to participate in the annual Christmas Function, where a relaxed evening with very little bird talk was enjoyed by all who attended. Hills Branch President Santo Calbrese, wishes to extends warm Christmas Greetings.

Flower Shows

by Laura Rittenhouse

www.laurarittenhouse.com

The world's oldest flower show is purportedly the Philadelphia Flower Show. First held in 1829, it now brands itself "the world's largest and oldest indoor plant show". Barely pipped at the post were the Taunton Flower Show beginning in 1831 in the West Country in Britain and the Royal Horticultural Society Flower Show, now held in Chelsea but starting in Chiswick in 1833. Chelsea has since grown to become arguably the most famous flower show in the world.

I'm stumped about the exact history of flower shows in Australia, but since there was enough momentum to create The Garden Clubs of Australia in 1950, I'm guessing there were many clubs across the country by then, some undoubtedly holding shows in the 40s. (If anyone knows the real history, please email me at contribute@hillstohawkesbury.com.au.)

Almost 200 years after the first shows were held, you'd be hard-pressed to find a pocket in the developed world without their own flower shows. This region is well-served with shows based around specific plants, organisations or areas, most of which you'll find advertised in the "What's On" section of this magazine.

Not to be outdone, the Macquarie Towns Garden Club held our own show in November which gave us the chance to prove we're not all talk when it comes to our gardening skills. It also motivated us in mid-winter to give a bit of extra TLC to plants we wanted beautiful come spring. Our event was a success in spite of the heavy rains which lashed our gardens in the days before the show. Success in the numbers and qualities of the entries, but mainly in the fun we had on the day.

The garden club is taking a summer hiatus. Our next meeting is on February 4th 2016.

If you're interested in gardening, join us at the Macquarie Towns Garden Club. We meet at 2:00 p.m. on the first Thursday of each month at the Windsor Library. Check us out at: www.macquarietownsgardenclub.wordpress.com. If you have suggestions or feedback for me, send it c/o: contribute@hillstohawkesbury.com.au.

Know your Soils

By Jutta Hamilton

Crofton Weed is about to shed its seeds again

There is a strong link between the types of vegetation found in an area and the underlying rocks, because different kinds of rock weather to form various drainage patterns, topography and soil types. Knowing your soils, aspect and topography will help to make native revegetation plantings and native garden design a real success.

Hawkesbury Sandstone derived soils are mainly composed of quartz and little clay, they are usually shallow, well drained with low nutrient levels. The variety of habitats provided by the rugged sandstone topography has resulted in the evolution of diverse plant communities of many plant species. All of which have adapted to survive and reproduce in those specific conditions. Despite their poverty, these soils support a remarkable diversity of the most brilliant plants adapted to low nutrients, drying winds and frequent fires.

The topography affects available soil moisture, and slopes facing north and west receive more sunlight and dry out faster than those facing south east. South east slopes can be cooler, moister and often have a more fertile soil with a deeper leaf litter.

In the Sandstone transition zones, lenses of Shale can often be found. These weathered clay rich soils support pockets of different plant species than the surrounding sandstone soils.

The shale derived soils, have high clay content, are generally deeper with moderate to high fertility that can hold more moisture.

Western Sydney lies in a basin composed of deeply weathered clay soils. Most of the Cumberland Plain consists of undulating land of low hills and boggy depression. It again supports various different plant communities, with the different plant species thriving in their preferred habitats.

So if you're planting into native soils there will always be a local native plant that will suit whatever your location.

Your local Council might also be able to provide you with a guide or booklet for choosing the right plants for your soils and situation.

AUSTRALIAN MADE LOUNGES

ENJOYABLE SUNDAY DRIVE by Trevor Patrick

Escape the city traffic and take an enjoyable drive along the Old Northern Road, once known as the Great North Road. This road follows the colonial tracks of the Convict Trail which linked the settlements of Sydney, Parramatta and Maitland in the 1830s.

Join Old Northern Road at Windsor Road, Baulkham Hills and drive north through Castle Hill and Round Corner. The countryside changes to a rural style at Dural where farms dominate both sides of the road. Roadside kiosks offer fresh farm produce such as mulberries, apricots, peaches and oranges. Leaving Glenorie behind, the road enters eucalyptus woodland with views of the Blue Mountains just as the convict road gangs would have seen when making this road in 1826. Governor Ralph Darling ordered this road thereby making practical use of the convicts who had broken the law for a second time after being transported to New South Wales.

The road follows the ancient aboriginal tracks along the high ridge giving you the opportunity to view some rock carvings near Forest Glen. At Loughtondale Road, a large sacred site known as 'Devils Rock' has been security-enclosed yet may be viewed at special times.

Driving north you will reach Hawkins Lookout giving the first opportunity to marvel at the beautiful Hawkesbury River, Webbs Creek and Macdonald River junction before descending to the river flat at Wisemans Ferry settlement.

This township offers a number of cafés and shops including the Ferry Artist Gallery plus the historic Wisemans Inn Hotel. The Inn is not only an ideal refreshment stop but also a display museum telling the story of the district.

Discover many MYTHS AND LEGENDS of the Hills District in the Award-winning book "In Search of the Pennant Hills" by Trevor Patrick, James Symes & Andrew Tink. Now available write 10 Lawrence Road, Kenthurst 2156. Only $60 postage paid Australia wide, Inquiries telephone (02) 9654-2224.

AUSSIE PUMPS

FIRE PUMP BUYER BEWARE!

Thousands of engine drive portable fire pumps are purchased every year during our scorching bushfire season. Many purchases are made on the basis of an urgent need to buy a pump for a range of duties. Those duties may include bushfire protection, running irrigation on horticultural produce or home gardens, or even transferring water over long distances for livestock.

Australian Pump Industries, warn that "impulse" buys can lead to disappointment. Customers often pay too much for products that simply don't perform to expectations.

UNDERSTAND YOUR REQUIREMENTS

Determine the distance water is to be pumped, the height the water has to be lifted (the required head) and the flow required at the end of the pipe.

Australian Pump recommends studying pump's performance curve and checking the following:

1. Flow produced
2. Engine RPM
3. Selecting the right engine
4. Pump Components

TWIN IMPELLER OR SINGLE IMPELLER PUMP?

Twin impellers are undeniably capable of higher pressures than single impeller pumps but flows are generally lower. Customers should satisfy themselves that they really require the extra pressure before leaping in to buy a twin impeller pump.

For more details call Australian Pump Industries 02 8865 3500.

It's easy to believe that the planet is frying and that nobody – not even the scores of world leaders who are about to descend on Paris for crucial climate negotiations – is doing anything about it. Wrong. While Paris won't stop global warming, it can slow it – and around the world some extraordinary things are happening that kindle hope and optimism.

In this one-hour Foreign Correspondent special, Eric Campbell criss-crosses the continents to see not only what is at stake but also what is being done to cut carbon pollution.

He heads to Costa Rica which has made a virtue of oil and coal poverty and is re-branding itself as a deep green emerald of eco-tourism.

In Germany, there's 22,000 turbines – Australia has fewer than 2000 – and consumers pay a renewables levy to ease the transition from coal and nuclear power.

In Antarctica, we meet the British scientists at the epicentre of climate research.

From a land of melting ice to a land of rising water: Miami, USA – where Campbell finds that waterfront property is still hot – despite projections that a lot of it will end up under water.

On America's western flank, in California, there's too little water. In the town of Porterville, drought has accentuated the race and class divide. Hispanics used to rely on wells that have long dried up; now they depend on donated bottles to drink and community showers to bathe. Mainly white residents still enjoy piped water. But just a few hours away, California's Bay Area is abuzz with optimism as a new wave of young solar entrepreneurs mine ideas and connect them to cash. One venture installs solar power for Kenyan villagers who pay for what they use by phone, no bank account required. California plans to be 50 per cent renewable by 2030.

Maddie Parry: Inside The Clinic
Wednesday 02 December, 9:30pm
Series Premiere

In this new series young Australian journalist Maddie Parry goes places most of us never see, doing work many people think no one should do. Immersing herself in some of Australia's most controversial workplaces – a brothel, an abortion clinic and Tasmania's unique forests – she must battle her own prejudices while searching for the truth behind the stereotypes.

This week, Maddie approaches one of the few truly taboo issues of our day – abortion. One in three women in Australia will have an abortion in their lifetime, it's so common, but women rarely discuss their own experiences. Over three months Maddie works alongside the staff of an abortion clinic in the suburbs of Melbourne. She talks with anti-abortion activists outside the clinic and, inside, meets women as they make one of the most difficult decisions of their lives. Emma comes to the clinic 7 weeks pregnant. She says she is sure, but cries as she goes under the anesthetic for her procedure. Whilst doing her job, Maddie is confronted by the reality of abortion. The staff feel they are helping others in a time of need, but appreciate it is the women who make this choice and live with it. Maddie comes to understand why the protestors out the front feel trying to stop women is the right thing to do, but also that the doctors and nurses do this job because they trust women to make this complicated decision themselves. Before she leaves Maddie speaks with Theresa, a woman who chose to follow two pregnancies to term despite the foetus being terminally ill, and visits Emma, the woman who was 7 weeks pregnant, to find out if she feels she made the right decision – or if she wishes this choice didn't exist.

Restaurant Man
Thursday, 3 December, 8.30pm
New Series Premiere

The brand new series follows people who pack in their day jobs to follow their dreams of starting a restaurant. Advice is on hand from successful restaurateur Russell Norman who helps to get these new businesses in the crucial early months

Episode One: The Bell Inn

Who wouldn't dream of owning a Cotswold pub? Dave and Debbie, who have been in a relationship for barely a year, are sinking all of their savings into a rundown boozier in Gloucestershire. It's either the admirable pursuit of a dream or a roller-coaster ride of blind faith over sanity. With pubs closing at the rate of 26 per week, the latter seems more likely. Russell Norman comes to the rescue with some badly needed no-nonsense advice about this most perilous of restaurant incarnations, the gastro pub. Alarm bells ring when Dave, who is trying to run several businesses in addition to his farm, and Debbie, who has a high-powered management job, think they can run the pub in their "spare" time. The couple's ambitious "farm to plate" concept and expensive venison steaks could price the locals off the menu – and that's if they can turn out any food whatsoever with a major building schedule to manage. As the all-important opening night fast approaches, the menu, service and staffing seem to be an afterthought, and the temperature in the kitchen is at boiling point.

Waste 2 Art Winners Announced

The winners of the 2015 Waste 2 Art Competition were announced last Monday, 9 November at a special presentation. Mayor of Hawkesbury, Councillor Kim Ford was accompanied by Councillor Jill Reardon to open the exhibition of artworks and to present the awards to 18 talented students.

Mayor of Hawkesbury, Councillor Kim Ford said "Waste 2 Art highlights how we can reuse waste by giving it a new purpose and transforming it into a creative piece of artwork."

"Looking at all the pieces, I can see we have some very talented students. They have all done a great job and we should be very proud of their entries," he said.

VOCATIONAL EDUCATION A GREAT OPTION AS PENS GO DOWN FOR 2015 HSC STUDENTS

Congratulations to the 870 local HSC students who have now completed their exams.

The HSC class of 2015 has worked extremely hard and should be very proud to have completed the HSC.

From my visits to local schools, I have seen how hard students have worked to prepare for the past 18 days of exams demonstrating their skills and knowledge and now it's time for a well-earned break.

Students will receive their HSC results on Wednesday 16 December.

Our HSC students should be extremely proud of achieving this significant milestone, regardless of what result they receive on December 16.

Vocational skills are always in demand – from construction to computing, there's a huge variety of skills you can learn that will set you up for a rewarding career.

We know employers need more people trained in areas like aged care and health, technology and science. These are the kinds of areas of training that will prepare people for the jobs of the future, and help ensure our state keeps moving.

Learning a trade is also a great way to get involved in the NSW Government's multi-billion dollar infrastructure program.

From 2016, the NSW Government is investing in a range of initiatives to make it easier for young people to access high quality training that will help them get a good job, including:

- 200,000 fee-free scholarships with priority for people living in, or on the waiting list for, social housing
- A cap on traineeship fees of $1,000
- $10 million investment to "try before you buy" through free pre-traineeship and pre-apprenticeship courses – funding 2,000 places, particularly for 2015 school leavers

- $25 million to deliver 25,000 scholarships to students enrolling in science, technology, engineering, and mathematics related vocational qualifications
- $10 million investment for an additional 2,000 places for students to train for jobs to support the delivery of the National Disability Insurance Scheme
- Free vocational education and training, for qualifications on the NSW Skills List, for people with a disability, regardless of whether it is a first or subsequent qualification.

NSW GOVERNMENT HELPS TECH SAVVY SENIORS GET CONNECTED

A new telecommunications offer and expanded training opportunities will provide NSW Seniors Card holders with another incentive to get tech savvy.

The Tech Savvy Seniors program provides older Australians with the skills and confidence to connect to the digital world.

The NSW Government is delivering on its election commitment to expand the Seniors Card program and help NSW seniors enjoy the benefits of being connected to the internet.

Whether it is used to stay in touch with family and friends or for paying bills and doing banking, the internet offers huge benefits to make life easier.

As part of the NSW Government's election commitment to expand the Tech Savvy Seniors program, training course locations will increase from 71 to 104 locations, and 31 libraries will offer courses in eight languages other than English.

The Telstra Seniors Starter Bundle is a new plan for seniors who are not connected to the internet to start their online journey through discounted internet costs. It is available to all NSW Seniors Card holders who have previously not been connected to the internet and can be ordered by visiting a Telstra store or phoning 13 77 88 existing partnership with the NSW Government through the Tech Savvy Seniors program, which provides access to free and low cost technology training to NSW Seniors across the state.

$50,000 REBATE OPEN TO SMALL AND MEDIUM SIZED ENTERPRISES TO INCREASE RECYCLING

The NSW Government has marked National Recycling Week, by doubling a recycling rebate program for small and medium sized enterprises (SMEs) to purchase small-scale recycling equipment.

National Recycling Week, which kicks off today, started 20 years ago to promote recycling and to educate people on ways to reduce waste.

Baulkham Hills small and medium sized businesses can register for a free Environment Protection Authority Bin Trim waste assessment to determine if their businesses are eligible for the rebate.

This program is a great way for Baulkham Hills businesses to save money and reduce the amount of waste they send to landfill.

Up to $50,000 (instead of $25,000) was now available through the Bin Trim rebate for each SME in NSW which wanted to improve its recycling rates.

On average, those SMEs that receive a Bin Trim waste assessment increase their recycling rates from 36 to 49 per cent.

This not only has the environmental benefit of reducing the estimated 800,000 tonnes of SME waste from landfill every year, it also helps those SMEs that receive a waste assessment to reduce waste management costs by an average of $3,000 per year.

There are around 680,000 small businesses in NSW which is approximately 96 per cent of all NSW businesses, which clearly shows how integral small business is to the community and the economy.

To be eligible for the rebate, an SME must undertake a free waste assessment by an approved Environment Protection Authority assessor and develop a waste-reduction action plan. If the assessment concludes that recycling equipment will help divert more waste from landfill, the SME can then apply for a rebate to cover half its capital costs of acquiring the small scale recycling equipment.

The program, which is funded through the $35 million allocated to the Business Recycling Program, was established under the government's Waste Less, Recycling More initiative.

Milo is like a cat without a go slow button. He eventually decides it time to have a sleep at night, but probably just to recharge his batteries so he can enjoy his adventures the next day. He is always up to something whether it is greeting the dogs, climbing on the roof, playing with other cats or just meowing to his humans wanting a reply back. He is a very amusing cat as he is always doing something to make you laugh. Milo gets along very well with our large dogs, and also other cats and kittens although I'm sure they must get fed up with him constantly hassling them to play with him. If you are after a cat that is always on the go and will keep you laughing with his antics then Milo might be just the one for you. He has had all of his vet work done and is ready to go to his new home now. Located in The Hills District in Sydney

Why advertise in the local TV guide?

- Over 10,000 magazines are picked up by local consumers by choice from stands in local shopping centres, clubs and petrol stations.
- The TV guide is eagerly sought after and in high demand with our pick up rate constantly exceeding 99%.
- A full page ad costs less than printing 10,000 flyers and distribution is free. Rather than being seen as junk mail, it is picked up to be viewed daily.
- As a TV Guide, your ad will be seen again and again over the 16 day period over which the magazine is designed to be kept.
- Value for money, our display advertisements cost less than half of the average cost of other local publications which are viewed once only.
- Local readers support the local advertisers and appreciate and support a local free TV guide.

CASTLES

"A man's home is his castle" so goes the saying.

Your home is also an expression of yourself. You decorate the home to your taste. The gardens are planned to your

So what if your home does actually become known as a Castle? Recently I had the opportunity to visit a home that has intrigued me since I first moved to the Hills more than 30 years ago and the Castle has always been there. It could be close to 40 or 50 years old. L. J. Hooker's developed the Winston Hills Estate in the mid-1960s. You may know of the "Castle" that is located on Churchill Drive, Winston Hills, the rarely used entrance of which is located near the bottom of the big dip in Churchill Drive.

The occasion of the visit was brought about by my grandson's High School formal being held and he wanted some photos taken of himself and his girlfriend. His girlfriend is the Princess who currently resides at the "Castle" (The home is for sale and is to be auctioned at the end of November). Who better to ask to take the photos than his old grandpa and the current owners allowed me to take a few photos of the "Castle" grounds.

Over the years as I have driven along Churchill Drive at Winston Hills and have glanced up at the Castle walls, like many others, I have wondered what lay behind those walls. Why was it built and who built it?

Well I have no definitive answers to who built it and why. Many stories I have heard say that it was a European migrant who built it. (Nationalities have varied according to who is telling the story). I have heard that it was built because of memories of home in Europe. Perhaps it may have reminded the original owner of a nearby castle. I have also heard it was built because the owner had a disabled son and it was built for his enjoyment. Having now been behind the Castle walls, I find the story of a disabled son to be a little hard to believe. With lots of steps, hideaways, nooks and crannies, I feel that a physically disabled child would have difficulty in getting around, although I am making an assumption that the disability was physical when it may not have been. But I can well imagine children finding the place enchanting and exciting playing kings and queens or perhaps imagining that they are Sir Lancelot or King Arthur.

Over time I have heard that the original owner also had a small canon that he would fire on New Year's Eve. There is a mount where the canon was supposedly placed with bolts in the ground where it was supposedly chained to prevent it recoiling into the house behind the Castle wall.

There was also once a moat and drawbridge at the "Castle" but they have since been lost to lantana which has overtaken much of the cliff face and bush that the Castle has been built on.

Behind the garage (Yes there is a garage, access is from Model Farms Rd) there is what is now a granny flat, that from the garden looks to be a tall tower with battlements along the roof line. The home itself is a modest single story dwelling which seeing that the rest of the property is so intriguing looks a little out of place amongst its surroundings.

The castle is none-the-less still an interesting place to visit. As you go up steps to the tower or wall that contains the granny flat as you go around the bend in the steps you find a small courtyard with a bar-b-que or perhaps as you walk around the yard you may come across a small door in the wall or a tower which when opened takes you into an area where you may store some tools or what ever. Being set so high above Churchill Drive there is no traffic noise. So on a sunny afternoon may see you sitting out in the yard or courtyard reading the local newspaper or magazine.

NOW WHAT ABOUT YOUR MEMORIES OR YOUR STORY

If you have some great memories, or perhaps you belong to a local community organisation and would like to share your organisation's history or story with us then feel free to share your memories or experiences by writing to PO Box 1278, Baulkham Hills, NSW 1755 or email to metropoll@optusnet.com.au.
