LOCAL DRUG ACTION TEAM APPLICATIONS NOW OPEN

The second round of applications is now open for local organisations to join the Local Drug Action Team program. Community groups across Australia are joining forces to deliver targeted local action to help tackle drug use and addiction.

The Alcohol and Drug Foundation will support the program to develop and deliver evidence-based community level planning and action. Each successful Local Drug Action Team will receive minimum initial funding of $10,000 to support the further development of their local plan for on the ground prevention activities. Community teams can apply for funding of up to $40,000 per annum to support the prevention activities and priorities they have identified in response to local issues. Membership of each team might include representatives from local councils, schools, police, youth services, primary health services and treatment services, community groups, non-government organisations and interested community members.

Examples of the sorts of activities Local Drug Action Teams might undertake could include:

- Fighting the scourge of ice in communities by promoting and disseminating evidence-based information and encouraging people to access available support.
- Working with vulnerable people to improve engagement with education/employment services.
- Providing support and information for parents and carers to talk to each other and their children about alcohol and other drug issues.
- Developing local solutions for reducing alcohol-related violence and other drug harms in community spaces.

Applications are now open. They close on 14 July 2017. Details about the program, community support material and application documentation is available on the Alcohol and Drug Foundation website at www.adf.org.au

“SEEING STARS “

You would understand if members of Elouera Cottage Crafts' Star Weave Community were beginning to feel “starry eyed”! But thanks to a little “star power” and the dedication and enthusiasm of their members and the community, their focus remains on a concerted effort to spread a little peace and love. For the past six months, Elouera Cottage Crafts (Cherrybrook Uniting Church) has been participating in “The One Million Stars to End Violence Project”.

The founder of the Project, Maryann Talia Pau - a Queensland based artist, describes the Project as “A peaceful global weaving project that engages communities in a conversation about ending all forms of violence”. The Project came about as the artist’s personal response to the brutal and horrific murder of Jill Meagher in Melbourne. She collaborated with the Queensland Government last year in an effort to engage communities in Australia and around the world to help weave one million stars for an installation as part of the Arts and Cultural Programme (Festival 2018) during the Gold Coast Commonwealth Games. The response has been amazing and currently more than 200 Star Weave communities around Australia and overseas have each pledged to provide 10,000 stars to the Project.

Around 100 people have been part of Elouera Cottage Crafts' Star Weave Community, all busily weaving stars, which to date, number more than 18,000, and they are extremely grateful for all the enthusiastic participants and incredibly proud of this fantastic achievement. Each woven star represents light, hope, courage and solidarity to end all forms of violence in the world and the installation of one million stars for Festival 2018 will make a peaceful and powerful statement during the Commonwealth Games, “SEEING STARS” on Saturday 17 June 10am – 4pm at Cherrybrook Uniting Church, 134 New Line Road, Cherrybrook, will feature a collection of stars woven for the Project interspersed with a display of Elouera Cottage Crafts’ handcraft. It will provide an opportunity to thank the star weavers for their contribution and for the community to see some of the stars before they are sent to Brisbane.

OF CIRCUS AND SIDE SHOWS

What did we do for entertainment in day gone by? Well for one thing before the advent of television you could look forward to the coming of a circus. Back in the 1930s there were around half a dozen circuses that travelled around the country. They would call at country towns, both large and small and at suburban locations in the larger cities. A few still do so. The circuses or carnivals were mostly family owned and operated. Remember Ashton's, Wirth Bros, Ivan Bros and also Bullen's circuses.

In the Hills district popular locations for the travelling circus was where Stockland's Baulkham Hills is now located between Windsor Hill and Old Northern Rd. Castle Hill Showground was another popular spot which is still used on occasion for a travelling circus.

The circus would arrive with its caravans and menagerie of animal life. Children would wander around watching the erection of the "Big Top" or main tent. The various side show tents, marquees etc would be rolled out and a "side show" alley created. Back in the early days, many circuses offered Elephant and Camel rides (now frowned upon and no longer offered). There would be many stalls established for the kids and adults to spend a few pennies. "Try your strength and ring the bell" would be called out by a gent standing alongside a large mallet resting against a contraption where you would be encouraged to hit the base with the mallet to send up piece of metal to hit a gong at the top. There may have been a shooting gallery where you could try to "hit the ducks" and win a prize or perhaps play the clowns by dropping a ball into the mouth of a mechanical clowns head which would go from side to side in the hope that the ball would come out at the bottom into the correct channel or alley in which you may win a prize.

As well as the travelling circus there were also other travelling shows such Jimmy Sharman's boxing troupe where testosterone laden teenagers and young men could try to take on some of the boxers in the ring. Some sideshows featured such items as the "Bearded Lady", performing dogs and monkeys. One travelling show featured what they billed as "The Irish Giant" on the placards outside the marquee it would state that he was eight foot one inch (246cm) when actually he was not over seven foot (214cm). In those days you had to take such claims with a grain of salt. Today it would be labelled as false advertising.

The clowns in the main ring in the "Big Top" would entertain the crowd with their antics whilst the ring may be being prepared for the trapeze artists or the lion tamer. Kids would be getting sticky whilst trying to eat their fairy floss.

But everything was part of the day of going to the Circus or the show.

Don't forget to contribute your memories and also any old photographs that you would like to see published in this magazine's "as we were" section.

HAWKESBURY COMPANION ANIMAL SHELTER – REHOMING AND TEMPERAMENT TESTS

Located at Mulgrave, Hawkesbury Companion Animal Shelter covers 1030 square metres with 70 kennels and a large cattery area. It services the Local Government Areas (LGAs) of Hawkesbury City Council, The Hills Shire Council, Hornsby Shire Council and Penrith City Council.

As part of this arrangement, Council staff from these LGAs bring roaming dogs to the Hawkesbury Companion Animal Shelter. Staff do their utmost to ensure that as many lost pets as possible are reunited with their owners or found suitable new homes.

The Hawkesbury Companion Animal Shelter has very good rehoming rates. The latest figures, using the 2016 calendar year, indicate that 1505 dogs were either returned to their owners or rehomed, which accounts for 94% of all dogs coming to the Shelter.

Prior to rehoming and where Council staff believe it is appropriate, a temperament assessment is carried out.

The focus of a temperament assessment is to determine a dog's suitability for a family environment. The dog's stability, shyness, friendliness, aggression, protectiveness and acceptance of other animals and people and its reaction to variables in the environment is assessed. As part of the assessment, the dog sits with a carer and the dog is assessed.

If a dog displays aggressive tendencies then the ability to rehome the dog is reduced.

REACHING OUT TO OUR COMMUNITY - HAWKESBURY HELPING RESOURCES

Handy local and freecall phone numbers listed include the NSW Domestic Violence Line, Hawkesbury Community Kitchen, Platform Youth Services and contacts for food parcels and vouchers. There are also contacts for counselling services and a freecall number for specialist homelessness services.

The leaflet is an initiative of the Hawkesbury Housing Forum and Hawkesbury City Council. It is available at Council's Administration Building at 366 George Street, Windsor and on Council's website www.hawkesbury.nsw.gov.au/services/people (click on Hawkesbury Helping Resources).

Please note that local and freecall numbers may be charged at a higher rate depending on your mobile phone service provider, so please contact your service provider for details or use a landline or a public phone in your area.

VOLUNTEERS WANTED FOR NEW WINDSOR BUSHCARE GROUP

Windsor residents now have the chance to form a new Bushcare Group, thanks to Bushcare volunteer John Jose, who is asking for people to join him.

John has been single-handedly planting, weeding and restoring the riverbank around the Windsor Wharf Reserve area next to Windsor Bridge, Windsor for the past three years.

Unfortunately, the vegetation he is planting along the riverbanks is regularly being dug up, possibly because people are searching for worms as fishing bait. The exposed riverbank leaves the area susceptible to erosion and weeds.

Ironically, native vegetation growing along riverbanks is proven to encourage higher fish populations in rivers. When people dig up the riverbank plants, the soil becomes exposed and can run into the river when it rains, creating murky water with very little oxygen, making it difficult for fish to flourish.

John would truly welcome a helping hand along the riverbank at Windsor Wharf to restore such a historic riverbank and for people to take ownership of this great location. To volunteer and help John restore this part of the riverbank, please contact Council's Community Bushcare Officer, Martin Gauci on 4560 4525 or email mgauci@hawkesbury.nsw.gov.au

REVERSE MORTGAGES – SENIORS LOANS – GOOD OR BAD?

By Sandra Dignam

I LOVE SENIORS LOANS

Most Reverse Mortgages are quite small loans, and as such don't earn me a big commission, but I still love them. Why, you ask?

Because they change lives.

Reverse Mortgages or Seniors Loans as they are often called, can take a huge weight off the shoulders of those who take them, relieve burdens and worries, and give back lost control. They bring fun and life back to senior citizens, and a new radiance to their faces. When I see this, it brings me real joy and satisfaction.

THESE LOANS ARE ALWAYS TRANSPARENT

I spend quite some time with my Senior clients. I always make sure they understand what they are doing and that they are not feeling pressured. I want to know what they want the money for and what it will achieve for them. A Solicitor also explains the contract and how it works to ensure it is appropriate. These loans are always transparent.

WHY ARE THEY SEEN AS NEGATIVE BY SOME?

If I love these loans, why are some people so negative about them. Those who are negative are usually the offspring and benefactors of these senior people. They see these loans as an erosion of "their" assets. It seems they don't care about the wellbeing of their parent or relative and they have already laid claim to their belongings. They claim that their parent will lose their house but this is not true.

The assets belong to those who have acquired them. They should feel free to do as they wish with their own assets and use them for their own life needs.

Note: Where a lender BUYS a percentage of the property this is not a Reverse Mortgage and is NOT recommended.

THE TRUTH AND THE FREEDOM IT PROVIDES

A Seniors Loan or Reverse Mortgage enables those who own a Real Estate asset to use a portion of the equity in that asset, for their own financial needs, without having to make repayments.

Essentially, a person 65 and over can supply their own needs from the wealth they have acquired over their lifetime, and need not rely on anyone else to help pay for their needs. To many, this is a huge relief. They are not forced into selling their home with the large associated costs, or downsizing to release funds.

WHAT DO SENIORS USE THE MONEY FOR?

Cost of living Expenses

Many Seniors feel they just don't have enough money for their normal cost of living expenses, especially if they are on the Age Pension. Let's face it, the pension is not enough to live on! Some take a Reverse Mortgage so they can live a more relaxed lifestyle and don't need to worry about having enough money.

Paying Out Debt

Others have incurred credit card debt and are now on a treadmill trying to juggle repayments. A reverse mortgage can be used to pay off credit card and other debts.

When I am talking to people in this situation I help educate them about what they need to do to avoid getting into this kind of debt again.

Travel

Some seniors take a reverse mortgage to travel. One of my clients travels all over the world on her reverse mortgage funds. Another client who has recently settled his reverse mortgage has bought a new car and a caravan, and is now about to set off around Australia. It might even pay for a holiday house.

Upgrading and renovating

Others want to renovate their home and make all the repairs necessary so they don't need to be concerned about those things for the foreseeable future in their retirement.

Health Expenses

Some need the money for surgery such as knee or hip replacements or unexpected illness, other hospital or medical needs or plastic surgery.

PROVIDING FOR CHILDREN AND GRANDCHILDREN

Some take a reverse mortgage to help their children and grandchildren with school expenses and with a deposit for a first home.

A Reverse Mortgage can be used for just about anything. I love being part of assisting Seniors to have a better quality of life in the Golden Years. Feel free to call Sandra from Every Loan on 96532034 for a pleasant conversation about Seniors Loans. You do not need to proceed to a loan. I will be happy to help you understand your options.

For more information about an assessment of your loans, contact Sandra from Every Loan on 96532034 who will be happy to clarify your options in specific detail.

Thank you again for your contribution to this important community event.

As well as funding; electronic football scoreboard, upgrade soccer goals, purchase equipment, the upgrade of a scout hall and the purchase of equipment for the Hills State Emergency Services (pictured).

In the May Budget further funding was announced for a third round of the Stronger Communities Program (SCP) in 2017-18. As with previous rounds $150,000 will be available per electorate. Round 3 is expected to open later this year. To register your interest, please contact my office on 9899 7211.

GAMBLING ADVERTISING - ADDITIONAL RESTRICTIONS

The Turnbull Government has responded to community concern over the level of gambling advertising in live sport during children's hours. On 6 May 2017 the Government announced that it will introduce additional restrictions on gambling promotions.

SCP Round 2 - Hills SES

From March 2018, further restrictions will apply to gambling promotions during live sports programs broadcast before 8.30 pm on commercial television, commercial radio, subscription television and the Special Broadcasting Service (SBS). The restrictions will also apply to online platforms. Gambling promotions will not be able to be broadcast from five minutes before the scheduled start of play in a sports event and for five minutes after play, or to 8:30 pm, whichever comes first. The restrictions will apply between 5.00 am and 8.30 pm consistent with other protections for children, for example restrictions in relation to MA15+ programming, alcohol advertising and intimate products. This will reduce children's exposure to gambling promotions and ensure a clear safe zone for children and families.

These further gambling advertising restrictions establish a clear safe zone for parents to have confidence that, throughout live sports broadcasts during these hours, children will not see any broadcast gambling promotions.

KINGS LANGLEY

The Surprise, with 256 male convicts, was one of the transports used in the Second Fleet in 1790. In contrast, the Surprise only had 23 men and 60 women passengers, mostly convicts and political prisoners, when it left for Australia a second time on May 2, 1794. It made the journey to Sydney in 176 days, visiting only Rio de Janeiro on the way.

On board the Surprise on this second voyage was a free settler Matthew Pearce (1762-1831), a handsome 32 year old, accompanied by his beautiful wife Martha. Entitled to a land grant, Pearce received 160 (64ha) acres on the north side of the 'Hawkesbury Road', 21 miles west of Sydney Town, from Lieutenant-Governor William Paterson. He named his land grant after King's Langley Manor House, Hertfordshire, England, where he was born. The undulating land was fertile, growing maize, wheat, fruit and vegetables.

Pearce involved himself in the community and was a member of the Grand Jury at Parramatta. He was host to colonial artist John Lewin on many occasions. His son, Matthew Woodward Pearce, settled on a northern quarter of the property when he came of age and built an impressive sand-stock brick home on the high hill that overlooked the estate. This building is now the focus of the Bella Vista historical precinct.

The developers of the suburb of Kings Langley used an historic theme by naming some of the thoroughfares around Cook's expedition of 1770 - James Cook and Joseph Banks Drives, Solander, Sutherland, Whitby, Plymouth, Tahiti and Venus streets.

MERCURY, MEDICINE OR MADNESS?

An inaugural address by Trevor Patrick at Rouse Hill Estate in April 2002 revealed the use of mercury as a medicine by the Rouse and Terry families. The medicine cabinet (pictured) is one of only two in the world to claim continuous ownership by a family from the 19th century. A Dutch family is recorded as owning such a cabinet from 1850 and this Rouse family example is from 1875. The cabinet contains Calomel and Blue Pills which contain Mercury together with Bertrand's Toilet Vinegar, Sweet Spirit of Nitre, Compound Powder of Rhubarb, Toothache drops, Dovers Powder and Abrahams Pills. The various ingredients show the Rouse family medical needs were keeping the bowels open (a popular Victorian concern) together with kidney function, toothache, and having on hand a strong pain relief [Dovers Powder contains Opium]. It must be remembered that medical help was anything up to two hours away with a horse ride to Windsor or Parramatta to summon a doctor.

The cabinet held a special book giving advice on the selection of the correct medicament together with a small mortar and pestle and scales, so the master or mistress of the house could prepare a dose to help the sick member of the household.

From ancient times, mercury was considered a magical substance since it is a heavy metal that flows like water at room temperature. Blue pills consist of tiny beads of pure mercury mixed into a sweet base and taken as a laxative. Calomel is a white powder of a mercury compound used as a teething powder by rubbing a small quantity onto the baby's gums. Fortunately the Calomel was rarely absorbed to a dangerous level and the action of rubbing the gums was the true medicinal aid in soothing the infant.

Mercury and its compounds have both poisonous and antiseptic properties and its use has been largely replaced by modern medicaments.

HOW DID SYDNEY GET ITS NAME?

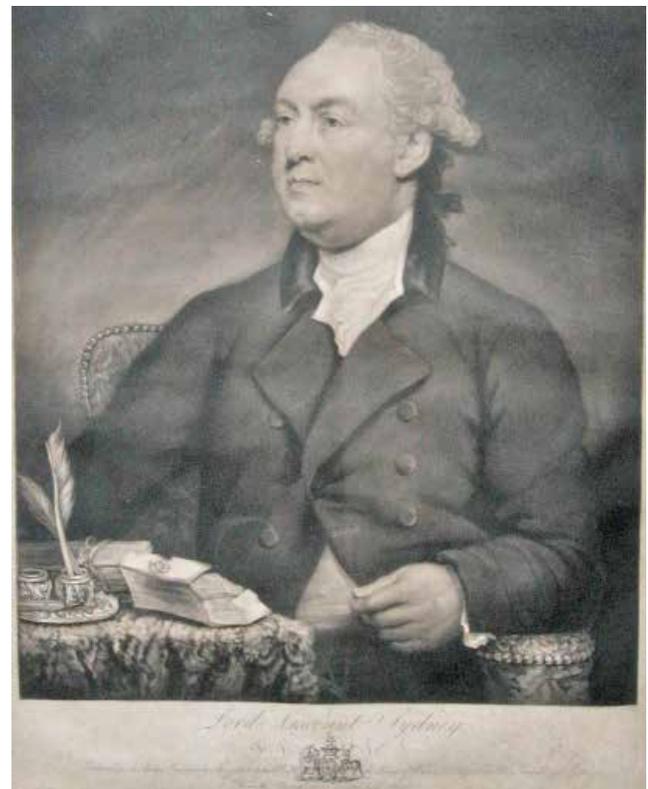

Arriving in Botany Bay in January 1788 Captain Arthur Phillip, commander of the First Fleet, had a problem. After an eight month journey in eleven small wooden boats the fleet's fresh water supplies were running low. Botany Bay, where the fleet anchored on January 18, didn't have any useful creeks or streams so Phillip set out to find some.

Phillip found a small creek running down into a sheltered cove just a few miles to the north in Port Jackson and moved the fleet there over the next week and a half. On January 26, marines and convicts cleared land around the cove.

"The spot chosen for this purpose was at the head of the cove," reported David Collins, Judge Advocate and Secretary to the colony. "near the run of fresh water, which stole silently along through a very thick wood, the stillness of which had then, the first time since the creation, been interrupted by the rude sound of the labourer's axe."

Phillip intended to name the settlement Albion, the poetic name for England. However, he quickly changed his mind and named the bay Sydney Cove in honour of Lord Sydney, the Secretary of State for the Home Office. The settlement itself later became known as Sydney Town.

Lord Sydney, aka Thomas Townshend, 1st Viscount Sydney (24 January 1732 – 30 June 1800) was a prominent politician yet never visited Australia. He was created Baron Sydney and entered the House of Lords in 1783. Lord Sydney was responsible for prisons and colonies and had devised the plan to settle convicts at Botany Bay. The title Sydney commemorates his descent from Robert Sydney, 2nd Earl of Leicester. The name Sydney derives from a village in Normandy called Saint-Denis.

HON DAVID ELLIOTT MP

ROAD SAFETY GRANTS ON OFFER TO COMMUNITY GROUPS IN BAULKHAM HILLS

Local road safety in Baulkham Hills is receiving a boost with applications to open shortly for the third round of the NSW Government's Community Road Safety Grants program.

I encourage all community groups to apply for these grants. Local knowledge is vitally important in identifying and addressing local road safety issues.

Some of the successful applicants last year included projects to raise awareness around pedestrian and motorcycle safety, road rules awareness workshops for culturally and linguistically diverse groups as well as people with intellectual disabilities.

We all have a role to play in making our roads safer. Last year 384 people lost their lives on our roads and every year more than 12,000 people are seriously injured.

These are not just numbers, they are real people lost to their families, friends and communities forever.

It's time for everyone to think about how they can contribute to improving road safety in their everyday lives and in their local areas to help us drive our road toll Towards Zero.

The Government will award up to $1.6 million in grants over four years through the program using a competitive process.

Applications open for this latest round of grants on Tuesday 13 June and community groups are invited to submit their local road safety projects by 5pm on Sunday 23 July.

Two categories of grants are available: one for smaller projects with up to $5,000 available for each idea and another for more substantial projects, worth up to $30,000.

Community-based organisations can get more information about the grants, and submit their application, by visiting:

<http://roadsafety.transport.nsw.gov.au/aboutthecentre/communitygrants/>.

MORE SUPPORT FOR OUT-OF-SCHOOL-HOURS CARE IN BAULKHAM HILLS

Not for profit providers of out of school hours care can apply for grants to expand or establish new services to provide flexible options for working families in Baulkham Hills.

The expansion to the criteria for the $20 million Before and After School Care Fund is a great opportunity for not for profits to apply for the $30,000 grants.

More than 160 schools and five local councils have taken advantage of the fund.

We know families need flexibility, so we're providing a flexible approach that allows not-for-profits, local councils and schools to provide more care options.

Since 2011, the Liberals & Nationals Government has spent more than $1.6 billion in Early Childhood Education, investing $382 million this financial year alone.

For more information, visit the Department of Education website at www.dec.nsw.gov.au/our-services/children-and-youth/out-of-hours-school-care-grant.

INTIMATE IMAGE ABUSE OFFENDERS TO FACE JAIL

The NSW Government is taking action to make sharing intimate images without consent a serious crime, as it will hold controlling and vengeful offenders to account and help end victim blaming.

People who share intimate images of victims without their consent have no place in our community and they will soon face prison time for their destructive breaches of privacy.

The Hills has one of the highest youth populations in the state and decisions teenagers make in the new digital world are, literally, ones they will live with forever.

The Government has introduced into Parliament the Crimes Amendment (Intimate Images) Bill 2017 that will make it an offence to intentionally record or distribute, or to threaten to record or distribute, an 'intimate image' of a person without their consent. The offences will carry a maximum sentence of three years in jail and an $11,000 fine.

Intimate images include photos and videos of a person's private parts or of a person engaging in a private act, such as undressing, showering, bathing, using the toilet or sexual behaviour not ordinarily performed in public. They also include images which have been altered to appear to show a person's private parts, or a person engaged in a private act.

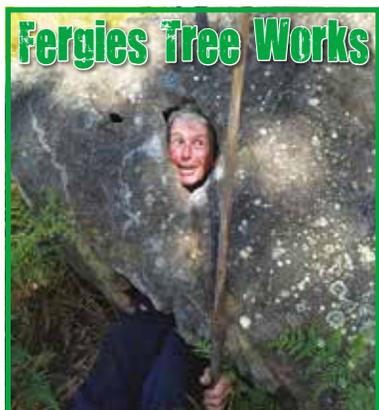

Courts will be given a 'take down' power to compel offenders to take reasonable steps to destroy the images colloquially known as 'revenge porn' to prevent further distress to victims.

The reforms target the predatory and manipulative behaviour of those who use revenge porn to threaten, control or humiliate victims.

It's not the victim's fault when an explicit image is shared without consent, and yet too often victims face a devastating emotional and social toll when these private moments go viral online.

The Director of Public Prosecutions will be required to approve prosecutions against children under 16 to ensure the new offences do not inappropriately criminalise naive activity between young people.

The new laws will not target children who take and distribute intimate images of themselves, or consenting adults involved in sexting.

AUSSIE INTERNS ... A GREAT CAREER

Local company, Australian Pump Industries is looking to recruit marketing and engineering interns. Aussie Pumps, located on 2.1/2 acre in the Victoria Park business district, is growing so fast they need more people and they need them now!

"Being an intern is a great way of studying and gaining work experience simultaneously. We call it 'learn as you work'," said Aussie Pump's Brad Farrugia. "Marketing interns, supported with our in-house training program develop into Product Management roles", he said.

Working in conjunction with the marketing department, and experienced product managers, interns are given ownership of a particular product range. Through market research they develop an understanding of the products' application and suitability.

They work to develop that line, making sure that it meets the needs of the consumers. Interns play a vital part in building marketing programmes, product enhancement and even media management.

"It is not for everyone," said Farrugia. "We need energetic young interns with intelligence, determination and courage. Ethics is also a vital part of the role as everything we do here is about helping people operate in a smarter and safer way with pressure cleaners and pumps that we produce", he said.

Aussie Pumps Brad Farrugia, Sales Divisional Manager and trainer.

Arcadian Quilters

Arcadian Quilters have been involved in a quilting activity with the residents at Bupa Round Corner. Our aim was to promote hand work and enthusiasm to the Bupa group in producing an article they could all share in. Quilting fabric was pre-cut and given to those who wanted to join in on making the group quilt. The blocks are a basic 9 patch and were hand sewn by the residents at their leisure. We collected the blocks late last year and this is the result. We presented the finished quilt, complete with a sleeve through which a piece of dowel was threaded to enable it to be hung on a wall in the establishment. The most rewarding part was asking those who did a block to identify it. Some confusion to start with as they couldn't believe the end result. On their closer inspection blocks were soon recognised and identified causing much laughter. Bupa have given us a challenge in making a Care Quilt. This will also involve residents and staff. Arcadian Quilters meet at the Galston Health and Community Centre, Corner of the Glade and 17 Arcadia Road, Galston. Visitors most welcome.

WHY ADVERTISE IN THE HILLS TO HAWKESBURY LIVING?

- Over 10,000 magazines are picked up by local consumers by choice from stands in local shopping centres, clubs and petrol stations.
- The TV guide is eagerly sought after and in high demand with our pick up rate constantly exceeding 99%.
- A full page ad costs less than printing 10,000 flyers and distribution is free. Rather than being seen as junk mail, it is picked up to be viewed daily.
- With the TV Guide, your ad will be seen again and again over the 16 day period over which the magazine is designed to be kept.
- Value for money, our display advertisements cost less than half of the average cost of other local publications which are viewed once only.
- Local readers support the local advertisers and appreciate and support a local free TV guide.
